

CONFESS DOCTOR MURDER

MILLS IN GARY NEAR BASIS OF FIFTY PER CENT

Tribune Man Finds Evidence of Breaking Big Strike.

BY HAROLD CROSS.

(Tribune Staff Correspondent.) Gary, Ind., Sept. 30.—[Special.]—I have just returned from my second and probably last trip [during the strike times] through the world's greatest steel mills. This time I entered concealed on the floor of the tonnage of an official's car, which I slipped as he was leaving home along a darkly shaded street.

My "pipe line" of inside information having suddenly been cut off by E. H. Gary's alert secret service, there was nothing else for me to do but attempt to find the additional hosts of grime, rumored experts at assault and battery, to be pleasant and companionable fellows, eager to loan information and matches. Workmen and foremen were even as obliging.

Fifty Per Cent Production Soon.

I obtained some inside facts: Within thirty-six hours, as soon as two more blast furnaces, banked for six months' idleness, can be cleared of ore and other ingredients, which go to make their bedding, are removed, the Gary mills will be up to 50 per cent production. Tonight the situation in the mills was such that cold iron was picked up and put in the open hearths, showing the absolute necessity of the fifth and sixth blast furnaces of the total of twelve.

About 3,000 tons of coke were made today.

Twelve of the forty open hearths operated today, a jump of two to twelve in three days.

One produced a hundred tons of steel a heat, and eleven had an output of ninety, making a total of 1,000 for the day. The four blast furnaces with six heats each gave forth a hundred tons of pig iron from a heat, making 2,400 tons of pig iron for the day. All steel comes from pig iron by two processes. The first creates the steel in the open hearth by blowing out the impurities and the second blows them out by the Bessemer.

Bessemer Flames High.

The big Bessemer flamed high to night, producing eighty tons of steel a heat, while the ordinary output is a hundred tons. It blew thirteen heats today with a total of 1,040 tons and the balance of the 2,400 tons of iron went through the open hearths.

The blast mill has started to take care of the surplus iron of the blast furnaces, and the slab and merchant mills were under way today, I was told.

4,000 Men at Work.

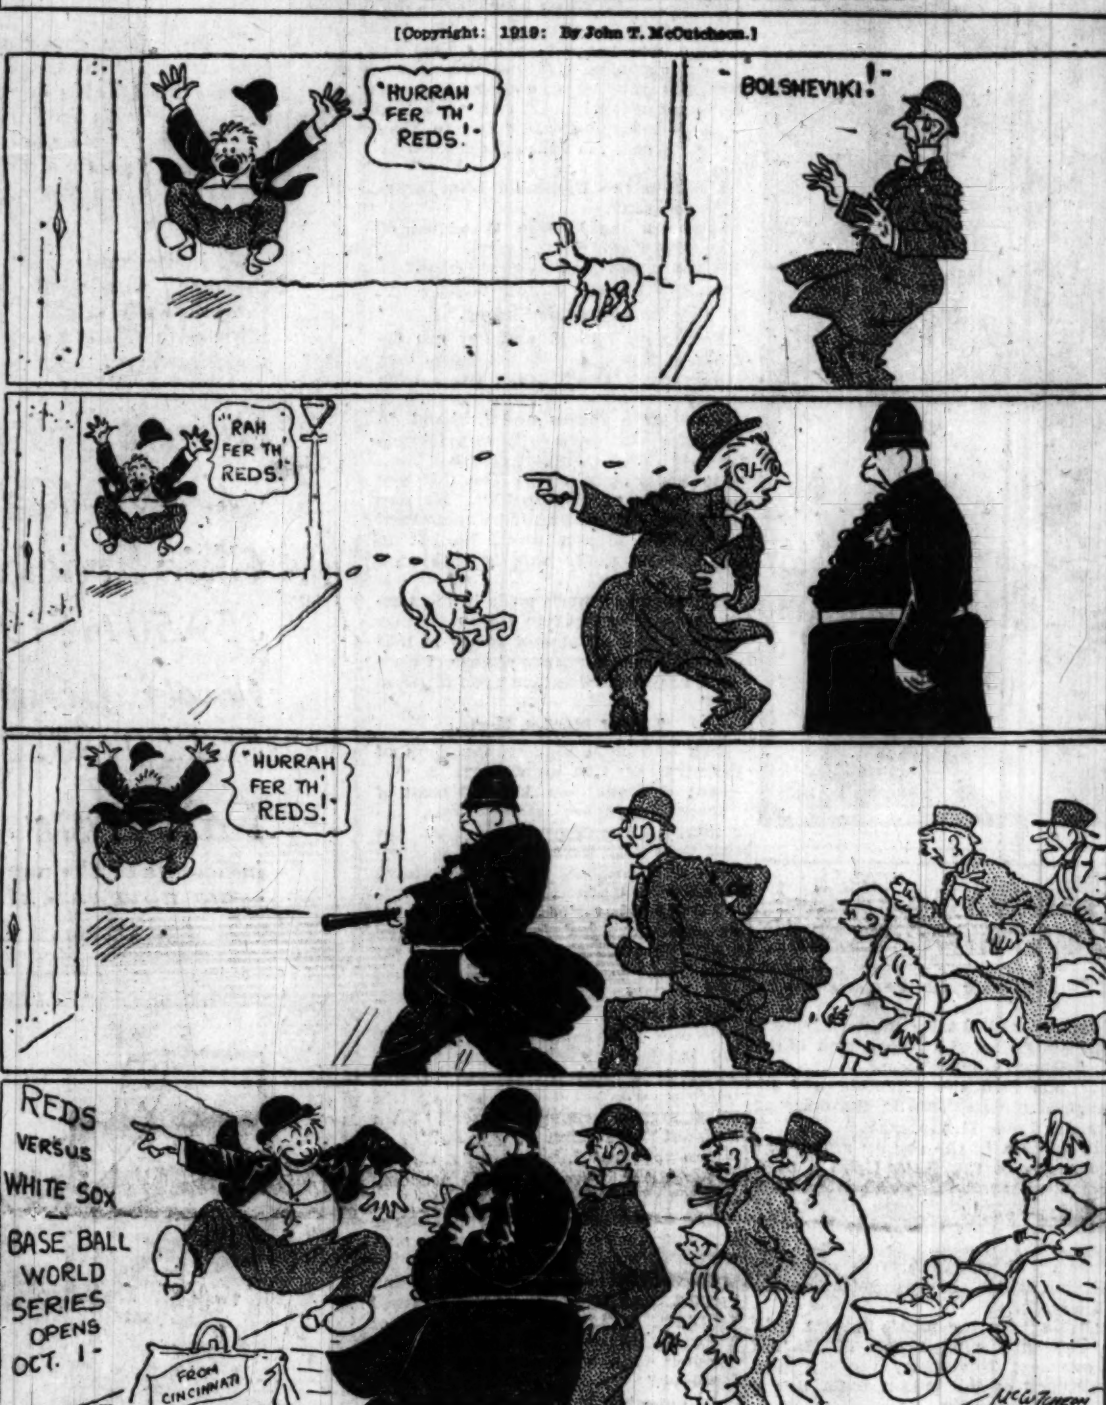

About 4,000 men are on the various shifts. The force before the strike varied from 8,000 to 12,000. Looking back from Fifth avenue and deserted Broadway, I saw nearly as great illumination and smoke as any night in times less stressful. I felt sorry for my friends in front of labor headquarters, as they told me joyfully that the office clerks were going to join the strike, for this appears to be the beginning of the end.

At dawn, a few hours distant, another two or three of four hundred men will go back to work in the machines of citizens. The strike without violence seems to have been broken by force of the will of the community. The steel union's council even recognizes that, for it ruled yesterday, I am told, to suspend punishment of those of its members who have returned to work.

Even the American Sheet and Tinplate plant, which had decided to close, has been given hope by Gary business and professional men, who have offered to aid in getting the high skilled rollers back to work. The plant has run into a siding a train of cars outfitted with bunks.

At a meeting of the tinplate workers who filed a hall on the south side it was stated the union had increased from nineteen paid members to a thousand since the strike. R. H. Moran, financial secretary of the local,

IN EASTERN AREAS

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Deadlock apparently resolves itself into endurance test. Both sides claim gains. Unions maintain 375,000 men are out.

Allegheny county court upholds Duquesne mayor's order against mass meetings; admits rights of free speech and assembly, but holds there are times when they are injudicious. This automatically upholds fines of $100 levied against Secretary Foster and an organizer of the unions.

Senator Kenyon with the senate committee may visit strike area to study situation.

Thousands of strikers at big Labor temple meeting. Leaders urge orderliness. Street assemblies forbidden.

Philadelphia, Pa.—United States Circuit Court Judge Buffington bitterly denounces W. Z. Foster as "a dangerous domestic enemy."

Harrisburg, Pa.—Pennsylvania Chamber of Commerce adopts resolution endorsing the steel companies' side of the strike controversy.

Washington, D. C.—Senate committee to hear Elbert H. Gary this morning; W. Z. Foster to appear tomorrow.

LAVA TRAVELS 30 MILES IN TWELVE HOURS

HILO, T. H., Sept. 30.—The lava stream from the latest eruption of Mauna Loa, which began Friday reached the sea early today. The lava traveled the thirty miles in less than twelve hours and traversed the Kona district, known for its coffee and sugar plantations. Two homes were destroyed.

HYLAN HALTS COP MEETINGS, THEN RESCINDS ORDER

New York, Sept. 30.—[Special.]—An order issued today by Mayor Hylan forbidding the police and firemen to hold a meeting today in city hall park to agitate their demands for an increase in pay raised such a storm of protest that he reversed himself to-night after a conference with Frank J. Prial, president of the Civil Service forum.

The mayor wrote to Police Commissioner Enright this morning that he had heard the meeting was to be a "disorderly gathering of agitators," and that he had personally spoken to more than fifty members of the uniformed force and found them satisfied with the $400 increase now promised by the board of estimates.

Mr. Prial pointed out that refusal to let the city employes state their case to the alderman was a direct violation of a pledge contained in the 1917 party platform on which Mayor Hylan was elected.

The mayor then granted permission to the patrolmen and firemen to plead their case at the hearing in city hall, which has been called by Robert L. Moran, president of the board of aldermen, for 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

LATE NEWS BULLETINS

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 1.—Consternation prevails here as a consequence of the order of the United States shipping board in stopping the clearance of vessels for England owing to the strike. Officials of British Atlantic lines declare they will not suspend their sailings and will do their best to maintain the volume of food imports as long as they obtain coal. The shipping board's action is merely reported in papers here without comment, and outside of shipping circles has not attracted the attention which might be expected.

OMSK, Sept. 22.—Retaining their initiative against the bolsheviks the Siberian troops have pushed their lines to within twenty miles of the Tobol river, immediately south of the Ishim railroad.

The third army has approached to within forty miles of Kurgan after a hard battle, in which four regiments of Red troops are reported to have been badly beaten and demoralized.

North of the Ishim railway the battle front has assumed a conformation running east and west. Here the Siberians are daily gaining territory.

SON OF DETROIT BANKER SHOT BY FATHER'S NURSE

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 30.—[Special.]—Aroused from slumber by a pistol shot fired at his bedside today, C. C. Schuchroth, prominent banker, saw his son, Norman, writhing on the floor with a bullet in his abdomen. He had been shot by Mrs. Hattie Walker, engaged as a nurse for the elder man. The shooting had occurred in the heart of the exclusive north Woodward residential district.

Mrs. Walker says young Schuchroth attacked her with a butcher knife and that she shot him in self-defense.

The son was paying his usual visit to his parents' home this noon, and while the father was asleep he and the nurse quarreled. Mrs. Walker is said to have claimed that the son accused her of seeking to influence the father against him, his brother and sister, with a view to getting possession of property.

IT'S MOVING DAY; 75 PER CENT GO TO WAREHOUSES

Over 4,500 Move as 50,000 Seek in Vain for New Homes.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

Nominally this is moving day. "There are by far more tenants than flats," said Adolph F. Kramer, vice president of the Chicago real estate board, and also head of the renting section.

"Our checks indicate there are between 50,000 and 100,000 persons inquiring for flats," added President Ivan O. Ackley, "but practically there are no flats to rent. Nothing like it in Chicago for twenty-five years."

"But weren't the renters moving?" was asked.

"We estimate between 4,500 and 5,000 moved," said Ackley. "But where they found the flats is a mystery to me."

"Certainly they moved. We moved them," said the van men. That expression came from Harder's, Blakeslee's, the Lincoln, and the Empire moving concerns.

Three-fourths Move to Storage.

"Where did you move them to?" was asked.

"A quarter of those we shifted had flats," said Harder's. "The other three-fourths moved into storage."

"Never so many in the October season moved into storage," said the manager of the Lincoln company. "Forty per cent more this season than ordinarily."

"A lot more went into storage this year than usual," said the moving expert of Blakeslee's. "Suppose they could not find any other place to move to."

Both the van and renting agents asserted that twice as many moved last May as during this season. The van men "suppose" that those who have stored their furniture have squeezed into flats of relatives and friends—some into rented rooms and a few into hotels.

Four Wage Increases.

The van men said that they had been forced to increase wages four times in the last year, but that the cost of moving had only been raised 16 per cent. This October it is $3.50 per hour for two men, $3 last year and $2.50 in 1918. Last May the $2.50 was increased to $3.00.

Rents have been increased on practically every building. Few have escaped. Only two out of twenty-six persons canvassed were found yesterday. One of these is an employee in a county office. Every other employee admitted himself a victim and they thought that the "lucky boy" was misrepresenting. A threat to phone his wife to get the facts brought out the secret.

"I got my landlord's taxes reduced," he explained.

The other fortunate one is held up as a horrible example in the real estate bulletin. His renting agent put a notice of an increase in rent in the mail box in August. Later the agent made a personal visit. The tenant said that he had not received the notice and that legally his lease had been automatically renewed for another year at the old rate.

Expected Another Raise.

Mr. Kramer "supposed" there will be another rent increase next February although he added he had not heard any talk on the subject.

The real estate agents are highly pleased with the city council's investigation of the shortage of flats and caused a great many raises which would not have occurred if so much newspaper publicity had not been given the situation.

A new wrinkle in the renting of flats is that leases are now made to expire on Sept. 1, Oct. 1, Nov. 1, and Dec. 1, and on Feb. 1, March 1, May 1, and June 1. Instead of two dates, May 1 and Oct. 1. Even if there were sufficient flats that system would decrease the number from which a tenant could make a selection. It is planned to extend the new system so that a flat will be rented on any day in the year.

Only Five Millions Bid for $70,000,000 Town

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 30.—Three bids were submitted today for the purchase of the government built powder plant city of Nitro, W. Va. The highest was $5,000,000. The city cost the government $70,000,000.

PURCELL SLAIN WITH NICOTINE; PUZZLE GROWS

Glass Believed to Hold Poison Gone; All Clues Fail.

Nicotine, one of the most powerful poisons known, killed E. H. Purcell, Coroner Hoffman's experts determined this yesterday. But the "How?" "Why?" and "By Whom?" angles of the case remain unsolved. Neither the coroner's staff nor the police will make an unqualified statement that either "suicide" or "murder" is the solution.

Like every other "lead" developed in the unusual case, the discovery of the nicotine only adds to the mystery. There are only a few instances on record in which nicotine was the instrument of death, either by suicide, murder, or accident.

As a deadly poison nicotine has few equals, chemists declare. But Purcell himself had little or no knowledge of chemicals, and nicotine's deadliness is not a matter of common knowledge.

Found After Twenty Tests.

It is difficult to find by chemical analysis and was discovered in Purcell's stomach, only after twenty tests. The test for alkaloids revealed it.

So now there is added to the "commonplace breakfast" the "nicotine system."

Discovery of the nicotine—enough of it to kill six persons—was made late yesterday by Coroner's Chemist W. D. McNally. He reported immediately to Coroner Hoffman, who notified Capt. James McCarthy of Town Hall police station. The three, accompanied by detectives, rushed to the Purcell apartment at 661 Roscoe street.

After an exhaustive search they departed empty handed. Their aim was to find the container of the nicotine which Purcell drank, or was forced to drink, a week ago last Sunday morning.

Death Glass Taken Away? A broken tumbler, said by the police to have been standing on the kitchen stove when they were first summoned, has disappeared. This glass, in the belief of Dr. McNally, contained the death potion. It was desired to examine it for traces of the poison.

Lacking the vessel which contained the nicotine, the police have their choice of two explanations, either the glass was carried away by some person at the time or lost as evidence through failure of the police to seize it. At any rate, the water tumbler, bits of which were on the floor, is not included in the evidence the police have collected.

Hint Traces of Poison. According to Dr. McNally, Purcell lived only a few minutes at most after the nicotine passed his lips. If it was administered undiluted, he must have died instantly; if it was placed in water or coffee, there must still be a trace of the mixture, he declared.

Strong traces of the poison on the towel which was knotted about Purcell's head as a gag, and large spots on his shirt, indicate either that he was forced to drink the mixture or was extremely nervous, according to Capt. McCarthy. It is Mr. McNally's first opinion that the poison was taken or given undiluted.

He believes it would have been possible for Purcell to place the nicotine on the towel, then place the towel in his mouth and absorb enough to kill himself. He also declares it would have been possible for murderers to force the towel into their victim's mouth.

Means Instant Death. "Nicotine, taken in the quantity we found, would cause an immediate stoppage of respiration, in my opinion," said Dr. McNally last night. "Whether Purcell could have bound himself as I am not qualified to say."

The police today will make a search of all firms dealing in commercial nicotine—the quality found in Purcell's stomach—to determine, if possible, how the death potion was procured.

A canvass of drug stores in the vicinity of the home last night brought out that the drug is not handled ordinarily. Greenhouses, and truck farms, it was learned, make a weak dilution of the poison, which, when sprayed on plants, is deadly enough to destroy all insect life without injuring the plant.

While the nicotine poisoning was being established, several other angles of

Ohio Court Ruling Gives Hope to Wets

Columbus, O., Sept. 30.—Unless the United States Supreme court reverses the Ohio state courts, the action of the state legislature in ratifying the federal prohibition amendment will go to popular referendum at the coming November election.

The state Supreme court today affirmed lower state courts in dismissing the petition of George S. Hawk of Cincinnati against Secretary of State Smith, in which Hawk sought to compel the secretary of state to refuse to accept petitions filed by the Ohio Home Rule association calling for a referendum and to prevent him from placing the referendum on the election ballots.

Drys to Appeal Case. Officials and attorneys of the Anti-Saloon league announced tonight they will appeal the case to the United States Supreme court. Should the federal court not decide the case before the election, the question will be voted upon. An overruling decision by that court would invalidate the election, however, it is claimed.

Judge Robinson alone dissented from the majority opinion and decision.

VICTORY FOR WETS.

Alfred S. Austrian last night declared the Ohio Supreme court ruling a great victory for the "wets." He said that the contention of the wets at all times has been that the state legislatures could ratify the federal amendment only after it had been ratified by a referendum to the people.

Mr. Austrian predicted that in several states the referendum would show the people opposed to total prohibition.

MUST WAIT A WHILE.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—[Special.]—Government officials were delayed today with requests from all over the country for verification of reports circulating like wildfire that the president is about to lift the wartime liquor ban.

Secretary Tumulty said there is no reason for the activity among New York saloonkeepers and restaurateurs, said to be engaging bartenders and ordering stocks of liquor.

Secretary Baker said the war department had not proclaimed demobilization at an end.

At the department of justice it was reiterated that Attorney General Palmer holds the wartime prohibition law will be in effect until exchange of all peace treaty ratifications, which is believed to mean the Austrian treaty, also.

New Yorkers Seek Licenses.

New York, Sept. 30.—About 3,000 saloonkeepers had applied for renewal of their liquor licenses up to midnight to night, John T. McNell, deputy United States excise commissioner for the county of New York, announced. Last year there were 3,275. The optimism of the saloon men in renewing their licenses is said to have been inspired by rumors of unknown origin that wartime prohibition is soon to be lifted.

WIFE'S LOVE LOST, ASKS 2 MILLIONS

New York, Sept. 30.—[Special.]—George E. Lothrop Sr., a Boston theatrical manager and producer, has been sued for $2,000,000 damages by Raymond C. Keller, a New York artist, who alleges Lothrop alienated the affections of Jane Keller, to whom the plaintiff was married on April 5, 1918.

Keller alleges in his affidavit that the defendant, well knowing Jane Keller to be his wife, by gifts of money, jewelry, and other presents, estranged her affection from the plaintiff and gained it for himself.

Most Reverend George W. Mundelein, D. D., has been prominently mentioned as the next American Cardinal.

TRIO TELL OF RENT DISPUTE; DEATH STAGED

Girl Bares Threat; Letter in the Tribune Helps.

A woman and a doctor last night solved the murder of Dr. Adrian Ragland Karrenman and enabled the state's attorney's aide to obtain confessions from the three slayers.

The woman and the doctor were present when the three admitted they had beaten and kicked the doctor while he cried for mercy and begged for his life, had tied the rope around his neck and drawn it tight, had thrown the corpse upon the awning couch and lighted the fire beneath it.

They heard the men admit there was an argument about a lease. Dr. Karrenman, landlord, had wanted to increase the rent from $75 to $200 a month. That was why he was killed. Neither the woman nor the doctor admitted the murder.

The woman, Mrs. Olive Mericle, 4854 Prairie avenue, department store clerk and friend of Dr. Karrenman. The other is Coroner's Physician Joseph Springer.

The Slayers.

The slayers are James Kilgus, 759 Garfield boulevard, who is married, and his cousins, Chris Parris and George Pappas. Louis Kilgus, brother of James and partner with him in stores at 6545 South Halsted street, 8513 South Halsted street, and 5502 Radline avenue, is also under arrest. So is Mrs. Kilgus, wife of Jim.

The murder was committed shortly before 10 o'clock Monday night. At 3 o'clock Tuesday morning Dr. Springer made an examination of the body, and said a rope had been used to strangle the man.

"Find that rope," he said. "It is strong evidence."

Detectives searched the house. After hours of search they found two pieces of rope, charred by fire. It had been around Dr. Karrenman's neck and the fire had loosened it.

"Look again," said Dr. Springer. "Find it all."

All the rope was found.

Woman Closes Confession.

It was Mrs. Mericle who gave the information that led to the arrest. When the men were first taken to the detective bureau they told conflicting stories, but were not ready to confess.

Chief of Police Garrity was called, and Dr. Springer. The men were taken to the state's attorney's office. They strongly denied their guilt.

"You had a rope," said Dr. Springer. The men were startled. Their faces showed it.

"You put it around his neck. You tightened it. You killed him with that rope. With this rope"—and he showed them the pieces of it.

One after another they confessed. They had the rope with them when they went to the doctor's house. They had cut off a piece of rope in one of their stores apparently for the purpose of garroting their victim.

"You killed by the rope," said Assistant State's Attorney Prystalski, who, with George T. Kenney, Mr. Hoynes's secretary, obtained the confessions, "and we shall demand that you die by the rope."

The Woman's Story.

Mrs. Mericle had known Dr. Karrenman for six years. Every Sunday she took dinner with him. She was at his home last Sunday. The three men came in then. The doctor asked her to stay, saying he was afraid of the three. She heard them talking, heard them agree to pay $300 a month rent, heard them make an appointment to meet the doctor Monday night, and then go away. When they were gone the doctor said to her:

"Those were three tenants of mine. If anything happens to me, you'll know they did it."

Reading Tim Tams yesterday morning on her way to work, Mrs. Mericle saw that something had happened. She saw, too, mention of the Kilgus brothers. A Tribune reporter had found a letter from Attorney Russell G. Walters to Dr. Karrenman. It was printed exclusively in the Tribune.

Walters had sent a check for $75—the September rent—to the doctor, and told him he had given Jim Kilgus notice to get out after Sept. 30. Twice Kilgus refused the rent because the water got into the basement and spoiled his vegetables. Twice he was sued. Twice the doctor got jail.

Type of Persons Who Were in Center of Sunday's Outbreak of Lawlessness and Violence.

The photograph of which the above is a half tone reproduction reached The Tribune office last evening from Omaha. It is unique in the clearly defined faces of people at an actual lynching. The group is back of the fire in which the partly charred body of William Brown, the lynched man. The lower part of the picture is not shown here because it is too revolting for publication. The expressions on the faces of the participants in the lynching are, however, a study in humankind in the mood of taking law into its own hands. LABOR ADDENDA IN TREATY ALSO 6 TO 1 AFFAIR

Senator Fall Finds It Gives John Bull Big Advantage.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—[Special.]—The anti-treaty forces in the senate buried a damaging bolt into the administration ranks today by showing that in the proposed international labor council American labor will have four votes and the British will have twenty-four votes.

This assertion was made on the floor of the senate by Senator Fall of New Mexico, Republican, after a careful analysis of the treaty. Senator Fall believes it would be to the advantage of American labor to have the entire labor addenda stricken from the treaty. He has found that the six to one ratio of representation in the league assembly applies also to the labor council. Each nation and self-governing colony or dominion gets four votes, giving the British empire twenty-four votes and the United States four.

Drifting Into Deadlock.
The peace treaty is drifting rapidly into a state of deadlock. Threats came from administration sources today again that if the senate adopted the League reservations forty Democrats would stand together and vote against the ratification resolution. This would defeat the ratification with reservations.

The Democrats would then endeavor to get a vote on the question of unreserved ratification. Information from the Republican side was to the effect that to reject the treaty would be to reject the League. Thus a state of absolute deadlock would result and the treaty would be thrown into the presidential campaign next year.

1747 on Johnson Amendment.
Senators like the situation better today in the direction of adoption of the Johnson amendment, giving the United States as many votes in the League as Great Britain. A canvass taken by a representative of one group of senators disclosed that forty-seven were ready to vote for it. Two senators were undecided—Kellogg of Minnesota, Republican, and Shields of Tennessee, Democrat. Of the Republicans, four senators—Cott, Nelson, McPherson, and McPherson—were ready to vote with the Democrats against the amendment. While on the Democratic side Senators

DISPUTES WHICH MARK TRAIL OF LEAGUE TREATY

GADSDEN, Ala.—In an election in which the league of nations was the leading issue, L. B. Rainey, Democrat, was elected over C. B. Kenner, Republican, as representative from the seventh Alabama district. The former supported the league covenant as drafted, while the latter opposed it. In carrying DeKalb county, however, Kenner reversed a political precedent of about twenty years' standing.

BOSTON, Mass.—President Lowell of Harvard issued a reply to the charges of Senator Borah, Mr. Lowell denied that he "sneered" at the farewell address of George Washington, but said he "would not use it as a cover for present party politics."

ARMORE, Okla.—Armored citizens sent a telegram to Senator Reed demanding that he cancel his address there in opposition to the league. Resolutions endorsing President Wilson and his stand were adopted.

OKLAHOMA CITY.—Senator Reed said that President Wilson, in supporting the league of nations, had reversed all the ideas of his pre-war writings.

RIO JANEIRO.—The Brazilian chamber of deputies was urged to ratify the league of nations covenant at once by Deputy Coimbra.

Read, Gore, and Walsh were counted as supporters of the amendment. The "mild reservationists" were still striving desperately to find a way to escape a vote on the Johnson amendment. They were busily engaged trying to convert the amendment into a reservation. Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin framed a reservation providing that the United States should not be bound by any league decision in which any other nation cast more than one vote.

Another Day, No Action.
No word came from the White House today as to when the president would be able to confer with senators. Some information about the senate situation was conveyed to the president, however, via Joe Tumulty. Another day went by in the senate without action of any sort on the treaty, and virtually no progress was made toward its final disposition.

Italians Plan to Raise Million to Aid D'Annunzio

The Italian Sicilian Benevolent Association, which is a massing of the right of Sicilian 774 Taylor street, to collect funds for D'Annunzio and his army, who are holding France. Anthony D'Annunzio, the association president, announced that other Italian societies and leading Italians have been invited and that a plan for raising $1,000,000 will be outlined.

WARM GREETING FOR JOHNSON IN SAN FRANCISCO

"Hurrah for Our Next President" Shouted; Speaks Today.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 30.—Senator Hiram W. Johnson was acclaimed vociferously by hundreds of his townspeople as he arrived in San Francisco tonight to combat the league of nations covenant.

Senator Johnson's train was more than three hours late, but the ferry building and the embarcadero were black with people who had waited to receive him. Many called out: "Hurrah for our next president!"

Makes Brief Address.
At the reception stand Senator Johnson was greeted with long cheering. "I am here, my friends," Senator Johnson said, "to preach to you the doctrine that this country of ours is for Americans, and to ask you to unite with me and with the other men in Washington who are making the good fight there to see that there shall be no khaki clad boys of ours sent to fight on foreign lands, wars that are no concern of ours."

Senator Johnson often was interrupted by cheers and he was cheered for a long period when he completed his talk.

To Speak Twice Today.
Senator Johnson's first programed appearance will take place tomorrow noon at a luncheon of business clubs at a hotel where just two weeks ago President Wilson first presented his case to San Francisco. Tomorrow night Senator Johnson will speak at the Coliseum.

The senator will leave San Francisco for southern California Thursday night to make further addresses.

Both Houses in Utah Approve Suffrage Law

Salt Lake City, Utah, Sept. 30.—The house of representatives of the Utah legislature in special session today ratified the amendment to the national constitution providing for woman suffrage. The senate ratified the amendment yesterday and the resolution of ratification now goes to the governor.

Jeffery May Be Named to Commerce Commission

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—[Special.]—There is talk here that James C. Jeffery, Chicago lawyer, may be named by the president to fill the vacancy on the interstate commerce commission. The filling of this position was expected this week, but the president's illness may delay it. Numerous commercial associations have recommended the choice of Mr. Jeffery, including the Chicago Board of Trade, the Great Lakes Commerce Association, the National Hardwood Lumber Association, the National Grain Dealers' Association, and the Milwaukee Commercial Bodies.

Gen. Wood Rules Omaha as Grand Jury Is Called in Riots

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 30.—[Ma.] Gen. Leonard Wood took control of the Omaha police department at noon today, and brought about a quick tightening of restrictions regarding civilian movements.

At 3 o'clock he made disposition of federal troops in Negro residential districts, and ordered also that no civilians of either race be allowed to congregate in crowds of any considerable size, and that no one be permitted to carry arms, either concealed or in the open.

More than 1,600 troops are patrolling the streets.

The general, in a speech to the chamber of commerce executive committee, city and county officials, at the chamber of commerce, recommended that the Ak-Sar-Ben carnival be closed and the parades canceled.

Grand Jury Called Oct. 8.
A special grand jury to investigate crimes committed by the mob Sunday night was called for Oct. 8 by the district judges at a meeting this afternoon.

Nearly a score of young men have been arrested and are held for investigation. The county attorney asserts that he will file charges of murder, attempting to slay, and destruction of property against them.

Police officials, under the direction of army officers, are making arrests as rapidly as they can identify any of the alleged rioters.

Governor Not Surprised.
He deplored the riot, but said "no one acquainted with conditions here could have been surprised at the outbreak."

H. J. Hykell, shot during the early hours of the riot while traveling through a crowd in the heart of the business district, died today of his injuries.

He is the third victim, the others being Will Brown, Negro, lynched by the rioters, and Louis Young, 17, who was shot by police officers while trying to enter the courthouse.

Hykell, in company with his wife, was driving in an automobile at the time of the shooting, which occurred while the mob was beating a Negro.

New Jersey Negro Caught.
Merchandise, N. J., Sept. 30.—James Whiting, Negro, alleged to have assaulted a white woman of this place and for whom a posse had been scouring the countryside since yesterday afternoon, was captured tonight along Rancocas creek, near Mount Holly. He was locked up in the Mount Holly jail.

Alabama Executive Acts.
Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 30.—Notice was given today by Judge Leon McCord of the Circuit court that a special session of the grand jury would be summoned Thursday to investigate the lynchings of three Negroes here yesterday and the wounding of a fourth today.

This action followed conferences between Gov. Thomas E. Kirby, Circuit court judges, and the sheriff.

Oklahoma Black Pursued.
Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 30.—A posse of more than 100 men was in pursuit tonight of a Negro who today shot and killed J. M. Williams, a street car conductor. A crowd of 400 persons was gathered near the police station this evening. A national guard officer went to the police station to communicate with Adj. Gen. Charles F. Barrett, should there be any disturbance.

CHAMBER VOTES TO STAND BACK OF CLEMENCEAU

PARIS, Sept. 30.—The Clemenceau government was sustained on a question of confidence in the chamber of deputies today.

The premier's demand for postponement of discussion of the motion of Deputy Andre Lefevre instructing the government to seek the adding of a rider to the Versailles treaty for the further disarmament of Germany was agreed to by a vote of 262 to 183.

Upon the resumption of the debate on the peace treaty today Deputy Andre Lefevre demanded the immediate discussion of his motion. He proposed that the government should be invited to open new negotiations with the signers of the Versailles treaty.

Premier Clemenceau said that the manufacture by Germany of heavy artillery had been suppressed.

His concluding words caused a great impression upon the house: "If the chamber decides for immediate discussion I cannot continue to work for the application of the treaty."

Premier Clemenceau demanded the postponement of this discussion until after the treaty had been ratified.

The remainder of the sitting was occupied with a speech by Rene Renaut, president of the socialist radicals, one of the largest groups in the chamber, supporting the ratification of the peace treaty and including a eulogy of the proposed league of nations.

"It is inconceivable," M. Renaut said, "that the United States, after being the promoter of the society of nations, and after stretching out a fraternal hand to France, can shrink from ratifying the pact which President Wilson, in his admirable campaign, has explained to his countrymen."

When M. Renaut concluded his address many deputies demanded closure on the general discussion. This is expected to be adopted tomorrow, which will permit a vote on ratification Thursday.

GIRL CHARGES ATTACK.

WASHINGTON NEWS —IN BRIEF—

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Washington Bureau of The Tribune.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 30.
Unless the government takes a firm hold on the distribution of sugar, the price is destined to go to 25 or 30 cents a pound during the next year, and it also will be a scarce article. Experts say that even under most favorable circumstances the price is likely to rise to 15 cents this winter and to remain there for several months. The sugar bureau of the department of justice has this conviction and it is endeavoring to stamp out speculation and keep retail prices within reasonable bounds.

The senate adopted Senator New's resolution calling upon President Wilson for a statement of facts about the landing of American marines on the Dalmatian coast without knowledge or authority of the United States. Administration leaders bitterly opposed the resolution, and Senator Hitchcock angrily charged that its chief purpose was to embarrass the president and delay the peace treaty. Senator Lodge emphatically denied this.

The American peace mission in Paris has called this government urging the immediate dispatch of American troops to Russian Armenia to save the population from extermination.

The peace treaty, from all information available, seems to be drifting rapidly into the deadlock stage, with Democrats threatening to vote against a ratification resolution with reservations. Both sides are charging deliberate efforts to delay, and in the meantime neither side is hearing anything from the president.

LABOR COUNCIL TO CURB STRIFE AGAIN AN ISSUE

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—Proposals for the establishment of a council for settlement of industrial disputes, replacing the recently dissolved war labor board, probably will be one of the first subjects brought up for discussion at the labor and industrial conference called by President Wilson to meet here on Monday.

Secretary of Labor Wilson may submit a proposal for arbitration boards. He favors district boards of arbitration, the awards of which would be put in force by the issue of an injunction by the federal court of the district restraining employers who are parties to the dispute in question from paying wages other than provided for in the award.

This plan would preserve the right of the men to strike, but is expected to take away the incentive to strike, as employers would be restrained by a court decree from paying higher wages than the sum fixed as just by the district boards.

Some plan for a larger degree of participation by labor in the management of industry along the lines of the Whitely council in England probably will be discussed, it was said.

GARY MILLS ON HALF PRODUCTION WITHIN 36 HOURS

Tribune Man Gets New Inside Facts at Great Plant.

was discharged, it is said, for telling reports 40 per cent of the men would return to work.

Legion Matter Cleared Up

The American Legion of Gary, having a membership of a thousand returned soldiers, met tonight and expressed surprise that the Illinois branch should confuse it with the local American League of Gary. The league dictated a communication setting forth that while some of its members might have enlisted in the citizens' country they acted simply as individuals without the sanction of the league.

IN OTHER LOCAL PLANTS

Joliet mills gave their first signs of activity yesterday since the steel strike was called. The Illinois Steel company started up its Bessemer and once again the rusty smoke began floating in the direction of the penitentiary. Union officials had declared that Joliet was locked up tight and that they had constantly gained in strength, but term-officials company reports were that workers have been quietly drifting back. For the first time in eight days steel was being made in Joliet yesterday.

Waukegan Situation Acute

Waukegan's situation continued the most acute. But even in that center nothing out of the ordinary occurred. At 4:30 p.m. Dickson after looking the situation over told the Waukegan officials and merchants that city authorities ought to be able to control it without difficulty. With reports were that that troops were being called out, but they were all put off.

On the advice of Gen. Dickson 300 business men of Waukegan, who were sworn in as deputy sheriffs, are going to form a regular military company. The adjutant general had a conference with them yesterday and suggested the plan.

They agreed, and last night held their first meeting and drill in the Waukegan armory, where ex-soldiers instructed.

The situation was quiet around the plant of the American Steel and Wire company and a number of employees returned to work for the first time since the strike. It is estimated that 350 are back out of a force of 1,500. Union chiefs kept their men away from the plant and ten pickets patrolled it.

Fear Control by Unskilled

Havoc in the union ranks is being played by the "One Big Union" idea, such was the impression observers gained in the Calumet region, and it was echoed by conservative labor leaders.

The craftsmen won't tolerate this One Big Union stuff, said a conservative labor leader. They won't ever stand for any control by the unskilled. Where would be the reward for spending years in learning a trade, if under-

PARIS.—By Spearman Lewis—Britain is sacrificing her domestic markets in the British isles in order to hold her colonial and South American trade against the United States. a proletarian control system the common laborer, by dint of largest number, had the voice on wage scales, for instance? If they controlled, a man would get as much money by pushing a wheelbarrow as by running a machine that took him a long time to master. Where would be the incentive for skill and natural aptitude? That's the way the craftsmen are talking."

Indiana Harbor, where 90 per cent of the workers are said to be out of sympathy with the strike, held a meeting attended by 500 striking unionists. They were addressed by a priest, the Rev. Father Cusack of St. Francis church, who spoke in three different languages. "Stick together and hold out till the strike is won," he said.

Many Go Abroad

The exodus of foreign born continues. Booking agencies report that between 200 and 300 foreign laborers are now leaving Indiana Harbor and East Chicago daily for the old country.

The various organizers and local union officials in charge of the steel strikers held a meeting yesterday in the offices of the Chicago Federation of Labor, where they made reports. John H. De Young, assistant secretary of the Chicago district, said that the situation was satisfactory.

The Illinois Manufacturers' association sent a message to E. H. Gary, head of the United States Steel corporation, endorsing his policy. It was signed by Charles Piez, president of the Link-Belt company and former head of the United States Emergency Fleet corporation.

EMPLOYERS PLAN ORGANIZATION OF OWN A. F. OF L.

"Union" to Combat Radicals Launched at Chicago Meeting.

"The Employers' Industrial, Commercial and Agricultural Union of America—Limited." This may not be the name decided on, but the employers of the United States are going to band together in one big union or association or whatever you want to call it for mutual protection. They intend united action in order to check action by organized labor and radicals against them.

Eleven representatives from as many associations throughout the country met yesterday in the offices of the Illinois Manufacturers' association and started to perfect the organization set forth in "our country first conference" on Sept. 8.

A committee of five was appointed to confer with the representatives of employers' associations in the United States and interest them in the project. Milo D. Campbell of Coldwater, Mich., representing the National Milk Producers' federation and the National Board of Farmers' organizations, was appointed chairman.

The other members were: H. H. Merrick, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce; George M. Gillette, Minneapolis, Minn., representing the Minnesota Employers' association; J. J. Phoenix, Delavan, Wis., National Association of Hosiery and Underwear Manufacturers; Samuel O. Dunn, 608 South Dearborn street, president of the Business Papers' association.

"You can call it a union or anything you want to," said John M. Glenn, secretary of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, after the meeting. "The committee on organization of five members was appointed to bring together all organizations in the United States who will stand for law and order, and to move against all actions by labor and radicals."

STRIKE BARNACLE AGAIN THREATENS SHIP INDUSTRY

Walkout of 100,000 Looms in East; Some Quit in West.

New York, Sept. 30.—Shipyards workers in New York and vicinity threaten to walk out tomorrow in support of their demands for 25 per cent wage increase and a forty-four hour week. It is estimated 100,000 men are involved. The shipping board, which is the largest concern affected, has made no statement regarding the demands of the workers, whose leaders late tonight said they would stand pat on the demands as served.

Quit Awaiting Word. Eureka, Cal., Sept. 30.—Four hundred men at the Rolph shipyards here stopped work tonight, pending advice of a settlement of the wage increase controversy. Their ships are on the ways for the private interests and two for the government.

Strike Threat Revived. San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 30.—The action of the U. S. shipping board today in deciding to permit the east shipyards to increase wages comes too late to prevent a walkout in the San Francisco bay district at midnight tonight, according to members of the conference committee of the Bay Cities metal trades council.

Not to Raise Wages. Vallejo, Cal., Sept. 30.—The Mare Island navy yard received notification from Washington today that no wage board would convene here this year and that wages for the ensuing year would be the same as fixed by the general wage board last November with $6.40 a day as the base pay for all trades.

Asked Not to Strike. Cleveland, O., Sept. 30.—Union shipbuilders in the Great Lakes region have been asked to disregard their threat to walk out at midnight in telegrams sent their union chiefs tonight after a conference here of the Great Lakes adjustment board of the United States shipping board.

Believe Strike Averted. Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—Strike of Pacific coast shipyard workers, threatened tomorrow, was believed here tonight to have been averted by an agreement to permit acceptance by the men of wage increases offered by the shipyards on the western coast, provided the government would share no part of the additional expense.

Both Extremists Lose. Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 30.—With the extreme views of both sides voted down, the joint conference of miners and operators of the central competitive field tomorrow will begin again to negotiate a new wage scale and new working conditions.

COMPANIES WANT BULLDOG STRAIN TO DECIDE STRIKE

Steel Deadlock All Along the Line; Men Lose Fight to "Meet."

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 30.—Both sides in the strike, now in its ninth day, are awaiting developments at the industrial conference which will open at Washington next Monday, and it was said tonight that there seems little chance of a "break" either way until then.

Strike leaders and representatives of the companies continued to give out conflicting statements, the former maintaining that they were not only holding the men already out, but making substantial gains, and the latter that the plants were being operated with more men than any time since the strike began.

Test of Endurance.
To all appearances the strike has settled itself down to one of endurance. The companies are now prepared, according to officials, to begin a wearing down process to end the strike. At strikers' headquarters it was said 875,000 men were out—an increase of 85,000 over the number reported out last week.

Big Labor Meeting Held.
Thousands of striking steel workers attended a mass meeting here tonight in the union labor temple. They were addressed by W. G. Rubin, counsel for the strikers, and more than a dozen labor leaders.

Mr. Rubin warned the workers to be peaceful and have nothing to do with radical agitators. "Throw away your guns; the only gun you need is your union card," said Mr. Rubin.

After the meeting Mr. Rubin, accompanied by the conference committee of the national strike committee, left for Washington, where they will be joined by John Fitzpatrick, chairman of the committee tomorrow and Mr. Foster Thursday.

One of the developments of the day that did not satisfy the strike leaders was the decision of the Allegheny county court in upholding the action of the mayor of Duquesne in preventing mass meetings in that city.

Foster Was Fined $100.
Secretary W. Z. Foster of the national committee and an organizer were arrested two weeks before the strike started while attempting to speak from an automobile in a vacant lot.

Mr. Foster and the organizer were each fined $100 and the County court today upheld the action of the city authorities. The court held that the right of free speech, sacred though it may be, must yield to the greater one of the safety of the citizens of the commonwealth, their homes and their property.

Senator Kenyon, chairman of the senate labor committee investigating the steel strike, wired union headquarters that the committee hoped to visit the Pittsburgh district the latter part of this week or the first of next, dependent upon the voting on amendments to the peace treaty.

AMBASSADOR

Envoy Who Returns to Belgium with Higher Rank as Representative of America. The Sketch Was Drawn by John T. McCutcheon Last Winter. The Two Have Been Close Friends for Years.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—With out a record vote, the senate late today confirmed the nomination of Brand Whitlock of Ohio to be ambassador to Belgium.

Mr. Whitlock, who has been in this country for some time, has been appointed as one of the American officials to receive King Albert of Belgium upon his arrival at New York and to tour the country with him.

START 8 MINUTE TRAIN SERVICE IN LONDON SUBWAYS

Troops at Stations Anger Unions; Talk of Sympathy Strike.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—The district underground railway started an eight minute service tonight between Ham-mersmith and Mansion House station.

This important development in the national railway strike followed a day in which the government claimed a gradual improvement of conditions, whereas the officials of the strikers asserted that the union was holding its own.

The official communique from Downing street at noon announced that more trains have been run than called for under the schedules prepared by the companies yesterday, and also that the distribution of food was proceeding satisfactorily. "Due largely to the admirable spirit and efficient work of volunteers."

Threat of Sympathetic Strike.
In the meanwhile James Henry Thomas, secretary of the National Union of Railway Men, declared that the railway men would not continue to refuse offers of sympathetic strikes from other unions. This was considered particularly significant in view of the meetings called of the transport workers and vehicle drivers.

Recent Military Guards.
Military guards were placed on all trains in the northern section today with instructions to take effective measures against interference with their operation.

Employment of troops is being resented by strikers at some places, apparently through the fear that the soldiers may be used as strike breakers. Speakers at a meeting tonight at Newcastle, Warwickshire, warned the government that serious consequences would follow the employment of troops. Dock laborers at Newport, Monmouthshire, have threatened to strike if soldiers interfere with "railway men."

Demand Troops Withdrawal.
Troops were on duty in all the main London depots today. The waiting rooms have been transformed into temporary quarters for the soldiers.

The men of the Severn Tunnel branch of the National Union of Railway Men have given the government forty-eight hours' notice to withdraw the military guarding the tunnel. Unless the troops are withdrawn the tunnelmen are to be called out.

The secretary of the vehicle workers' organization has instructed members not to touch railroad work of any description, in connection with the movement of food or otherwise.

The executive of the Amalgamated Society of Engineers has decided against a strike. Mechanics, however, must refuse work previously done by them.

Auto Kills Small Boy, 11, Crossing Kenmore Avenue

Sylvester Smith, 11 years old, 4150 Sheridan road, was killed yesterday when he was struck by an automobile owned by Lyon & Healy and driven by Joseph Brader, 1879 Burlington street.

According to witnesses, the boy was crossing the street in front of 4133 Kenmore avenue and had darted out from behind an automobile directly in front of another driven by Brader.

The boy's father is in the airplane business.

WILSON GAINING UNDER REST CURE; SIGNS FEW BILLS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—President Wilson, whose illness took a turn for the better yesterday, continued to improve today under the rest cure prescribed by his physician.

After the first good night's rest he had since he was taken ill the president was up most of the day and was permitted by Dr. Grayson to give his attention for a short while to pressing executive matters. He signed several minor bills and resolutions, sent some nominations to the senate, and dictated a few letters.

During the afternoon he took another automobile ride and seemed to enjoy it thoroughly. Accompanied by Mrs. Wilson and his daughter, Miss Margaret, he was away from the White House nearly two hours, driving far out into the country.

As long as good weather continues, it is understood the automobile ride will be a daily feature on the president's rest program. It has been prescribed not only to give him the benefit of the sun and fresh air, it is said, but because it aids in overcoming the sleeplessness from which he has suffered.

Dr. Grayson would make no prediction today whether the president would be able to take any part in the labor and industrial conference which meets here next Monday.

A bulletin issued tonight at 10:30 o'clock at the White House stated: "The president spent a fairly comfortable day and is improving."

Composers May Quit.
J. H. Thomas, leader of the strikers, is quoted today as saying that unless the newspapers changed their attitude toward the railway men the newspaper composers would strike.

STRIKERS MOVE CHURCH BOYCOTT FOR PEACE ACT

Idea Launched Against the Protestants of Gary.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]
Gary, Ind., Sept. 30.—[Special.]—A boycott of the Protestant clergy of the city because of alleged plans to "turn the churches into recruiting stations for the Loyal American league," which is supplying automobile patrols and civilian police, was launched by the principal speaker of the strikers' mass meeting today.

The new move was inspired by a secret meeting of the ministers in the Y. M. C. A., under the auspices of the Gary Federation of Churches, at which it was agreed upon sermons to be delivered Sunday sponsoring the American League and calling upon the parishioners to support the mayor to the fullest extent, emphasizing the fatal effect upon Gary of a long strike and the closing of the mills.

The chairman of the ministerial conference was Dr. W. A. Squires, executive secretary of the Calumet Region Federation of Churches, who, it is declared, will organize the churches of Indiana Harbor and East Chicago to a similar stand.

Dickson, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A.
The only official announcement of the meeting was that the pastors met "to ascertain ways and means whereby by churches might offer their aid to both sides in the steel strike to bring about an amicable adjustment."

Attorney James H. Caldwell, addressing the strikers this afternoon, held to ridicule the statement that the churches would offer aid to both sides.

Charges Strike Breaking.
The steel officials donated large sums of money for the erection of churches and to their support," shouted Caldwell. "Instead of preaching Christ and upholding humanity, the ministers have organized their churches for recruiting stations for strike breakers. They are taking men where to meet the Loyal league automobiles and be carried through the lines of pickets. It's got to be a proposition of dog eat dog in Gary."

Mayor Hodges was criticized for his activity in connection with the Loyal American league. "There are eighteen thousand strikers and their families in Gary and they make up the majority of the people in Gary," shouted a speaker. "Why don't the mayor serve the majority?"

SERBIANS TELL HOW U. S. FORCES ROUTED ITALIANS

Report on Incident at Trau Received in Paris.

BULLETIN.
ROME, Sept. 30.—The Italians at Trau, Dalmatia, have requested the Italian government to send a ship to Trau for their protection and also to obtain the release of prominent Italians arrested by the Serbians. The government has replied that it cannot interfere for the maintenance of order in sections of Dalmatia entrusted to the care of the Americans, but that it will convey the appeal to the American commander, Rear Admiral Andrews.

BY HENRY WALES.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(By Special Cable.)
PARIS, Sept. 30.—The Serbian minister here today received the following report:

"Five hundred American marines landed in Trau from the United States warship Olympia on the morning of Sept. 23 and routed a company of Italian troops under the dictator, Fano, who, imitating D'Annunzio at Fiume, had seized the city."

"Upon the appearance of the American marines the Italians fled, abandoning armored automobiles, machine guns, grenades, and even an Italian battle flag, bearing the inscription that Fano was dictator of Trau."

"The Americans captured this material and flag and took Fano prisoner, afterward turning him over to the proper authorities."

"A few hours later Serbian troops from Spalato reached the scene and the Americans then reembarked on board the Olympia."

"The Americans handed over the captured machine guns, armored automobiles, and flag to the Trau authorities."

Contradiction in Reports.
Although Frank Polk, assistant secretary of state, announces that the Italian admiral on board the Italian warship requested the American commander of the Olympia to land marines and to chase the Italians out, Serbian headquarters have no confirmation of this and state that no Italian warship was there.

The Olympia and an American destroyer now are anchored in Trau harbor upon the urgent request of the Jugo-Slav authorities, who fear the Italians will attack again. The Italians concentrated troops upon the main highroads leading toward Trau and posted several batteries of artillery covering these highways. The Italians also have more armored automobiles parked in the vicinity, and it is feared they may make another attempt to seize the port.

SERBS MOBILIZE NEAR FIUME

BY JOHN CLAYTON.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(By Special Cable.)
FIUME, Sept. 28, via Paris, Sept. 30.

ADRIATIC, THE SEA OF UNREST

1—Fiume, the scene of the recent D'Annunzio coup.
2—Trau and Spalato, Dalmatian cities where American marines have been landed to preserve order and oust the Italian adventurers.
3—American warships are said to be patrolling the middle third of the Dalmatian coast.
4—The Italian navy is patrolling the northern end of the Dalmatian coast.
5—The French navy is patrolling the lower Adriatic coast, in the region of Cattaro.
6—The Jugo-Slavs are reported to be greatly incensed over the acts of the Italians and are discussing war measures.

Most ominous of all the circumstances indicating further trouble in Fiume is the continued mobilization of Serbian troops along the Serbian frontier. This continues daily. Sept. 25 D'Annunzio was estimated to have 10,000 troops in his command, continual arrival of motor lorries with provisions indicates the blockade is a farce. Fiume awaits eagerly the outcome of Admiral Caghi's report to Rome after his interview with D'Annunzio. D'Annunzio declined Nitti's invitation to withdraw from Fiume. The D'Annunzio-Caghi interview in the grand palace lasted from 9:30 till long after midnight.

Marines at Spalato.
Rome Sept. 30.—American marines or bluejackets are maintaining order in the city of Spalato, Dalmatia, where Rear Admiral Philip Andrews is stationed with his flagship, the Pittsburgh, according to reports reaching this city.

It is indicated in reports that feeling is running high in Spalato, and that the Americans have been forced to intervene between the Italians and Jugo-Slavs.

The Fiume issue will be laid before the Italian people on Nov. 16, together with the other matters on which the government wishes to obtain a mandate. The parliament was dissolved yesterday and will reassemble on Dec. 1.

Telegraphic advices from Fiume report that Gabriele d'Annunzio, in command of the insurgent garrison of the city, has stated that he considered himself in a state of war with Jugo-Slavs.

SENATE INSISTS WILSON EXPLAIN TRAU'S CAPTURE

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—[Special.]—After sharp debate the senate today adopted the New resolution calling upon President Wilson for a statement of the facts about the landing of American marines on the Dalmatian coast without the knowledge of any authority in the United States.

Senator Hitchcock charged the Republicans with filibustering against the treaty.

"There has been no filibuster and there has been no desire for one," Senator Lodge declared. "So far as I am concerned, there never will be a filibuster."

Senator Fall of New Mexico, in a clash with Senator Hitchcock over the supreme council, said: "I defy the senator to name the American member of the supreme council—who is he?"

"The senator can defy until he is black in the face," shouted Senator Hitchcock, "but he knows, and all the senators, who are holding up this treaty and delaying its ratification by a systematic filibuster know, that the supreme council exists in Europe and will exist until the nations are at peace."

REDS FLOG YANK; JAPS THREATEN AMERICAN RELIEF

Gen. Graves Demands an Apology; Sifts Acts of "Allied" Chief.

VLADIVOSTOK, Sept. 19. — (By the Associated Press.)— Maj. Gen. William S. Graves, commander of American forces in Siberia, has demanded an apology from Gen. Romanoff, in command of the Russian troops in Primorje province, for the arrest of Capt. L. P. Johns, 27th Infantry, and Corporal Benjamin Sperling, 21st Infantry, and the flogging of the latter by Cossacks commanded by Gen. Kalmikoff.

An investigation of the conduct of a Japanese officer at Iman, the place where the arrests took place, also has been begun by the Japanese high command.

The incident, which occurred Sept. 16, is considered one of the most serious since the allies landed in Siberia.

Captain Escapes; Gets Help.

Capt. Johns escaped and brought word here of Sperling's predicament. A detachment of 150 Americans immediately was sent to Iman to effect his release. On arriving there they took three Cossacks as hostages.

They found Kalmikoff's men entrenched and were prepared to use force against them, when a Japanese major interceded for the Cossacks, stating, it is alleged, that in the event of hostilities between the Americans and Cossacks, the Japanese troops at Iman would side with the latter.

He told the Americans that Sperling had been taken to Khabarovsk, Kalmikoff's headquarters.

Promise to Release Yank.
A telegraphic demand for Sperling was sent to Khabarovsk and a reply was received that he would be released at once. The Americans then returned to Spassk, taking their hostages with them.

A preliminary investigation shows, it is said, that Sperling was flogged. Kalmikoff, considered by Americans here as a "Siberian Villa," has, with his band, been a constant source of trouble. It is charged, his raids being marked by cruelties and atrocities.

Missing Wife and Four Daughters for Whom Husband Is Searching.

MRS. PHIL MASON—HAZEL MASON.

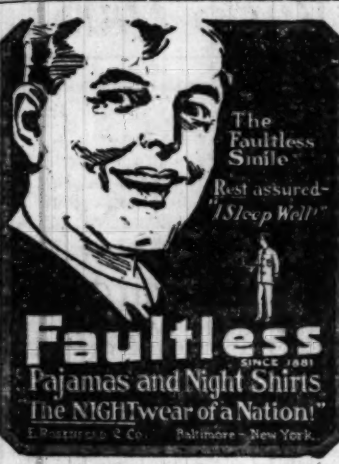

IRENE—NELLIE—VIVIAN.

Philip S. Mason of 6338 South Irving avenue, an engineer on the Pennsylvania railroad, is searching Chicago for his wife and four daughters, who disappeared on Sept. 9.

Mason believes his wife has gone with another man. A month before her disappearance he became suspicious and questioned her. He says she admitted her friendship for another, but promised to give him up. She would not reveal his identity.

Her husband says later she called friends on the phone and said she and her four girls were living with the other man, but Mason has been unable to locate them.

The Masons have five children. A boy is home with his father.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30. — (Special.)—New pressure was brought to bear by the administration today for quick action by the senate on the Williams resolution authorizing the president to use the army and navy to restore order and to police Armenia.

The senate foreign relations subcommittee received the following telegram from the American mission in Paris:

The cablegram read:
"With regard to the military requirements of the present situation in the Caucasus the American mission in Paris has received the following telegraphic information from Col. Haskell, who personally investigated conditions in Armenia and stated he found the situation horrible beyond description.

"Col. Haskell states that relief can and will reach in time to prevent attacking if he, Col. Haskell, be provided with troops and the situation in Russian Armenia will be saved by the equivalent of an American brigade of reinforced infantry."

The committee heard Acting Secretary of State Phillips give reasons for accepting the Armenian mandate. Mr. Phillips furnished data to the committee showing the conditions in Armenia.

One of the documents submitted by Mr. Phillips stated that the American commission at Constantinople was informed that the Tartars had massacred between 5,000 and 12,000 persons after a three days' battle at Nakhichevan.

Cardinal Mercier, primate of Belgium, urges a definite settlement of the Armenian question in a letter received today by Arshag Mahdesian, secretary of the American committee for Armenian independence.

BILL PASSED TO LIMIT STORAGE OF FOODSTUFFS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30. — Additional legislation recommended by President Wilson as a means of reducing living costs was passed today by the house and sent to the senate.

It would limit the time of holding foodstuffs in cold storage to twelve months and require that when released such food be plainly marked with the date it was placed in storage.

The vote was 264 to 4. Regulatory features become effective immediately on its passage, but ninety days for an adjustment of the business affected is allowed before penalties apply.

Vast quantities of food now in storage are expected to be released as soon as the measure becomes a law. Cheese is the only commodity exempted, the time limit for storage to perfect aging being extended for a longer period. Violators will be fined $1,000 or imprisoned for one year.

SHOES WALK OFF, GIVING MOONEY NEW MYSTERY

James L. Mooney this morning has added mystery to take with him when he retires of a Sunday afternoon to his overfitted davenport to cogitate upon the intricacies of life and death.

The chief of our city detectives must now try to unravel, along with some thirty-time murder tangles, the knotted query of the eight $25 shoes.

The shoes walked out of the vault in the detective bureau. They walked hence, though sequestered behind locks and bars and further guarded by a quarter of a ton of coal piled against the vault's door.

The shoes, part of a shipment of twenty-five pairs stolen from the Michigan Central railroad when in transit from Hanan's store, were recovered a day or so ago and a man named Sam Gordon was arrested. The twenty-five pairs were put under lock and key, as aforesaid, and some of our best sleuths assigned to keep watch over them. But they went away.

Secretary Daniels says that the American marines did not enter Trau, suppress the Italians, and let the Jugo-Slavs in under orders from the British admiralty, but obeyed instructions of the interallied council at Pavia.

The United States senate finds the incident exemplary, even with the modifications given by the secretary of the navy. The United States is represented on the interallied council, which for the present is virtually the council of the league of nations. Italy has violated the integrity of the new Jugo-Slavic country. Gabriele d'Annunzio has done it with his volunteers. It amounts to the same thing.

D'Annunzio, arising from a bed of fever and taking all the fever with him, is in Piume to rule or die, and says that Italy must have the coast and the hinterland. D'Annunzio has violated article 19 of what would be the covenant of the league of nations if the United States senate were not resisting the efforts to force its adoption, and the council, which would be the council of the league, has given instructions. Mr. Daniels says, to American marines to throw the Italians out of one Dalmatian coast town.

That was a small job. There were not many Italians at Trau and the Jugo-Slavs were advancing to take possession themselves. But D'Annunzio in Piume presents a bigger problem than the Italian government wants to take in hand, and if American marines are sent after him by the inter-allied council the United States will be in something very like a war with the Italian people, with whom we know of no occasion to have a war.

Incidentally the American representatives on the interallied council inform the Associated Press that they did not send the marines to Trau. About the only fact agreed upon is that the marines went to Trau, that the Italians went out and the Jugo-Slavs came in.

The United States senate cannot determine whether the United States is the world's greatest uncle, universal dog catcher, or cosmic goat.

A QUESTION OF PUBLIC POLICY.

As Editorial of the Day we reprint an editorial from the Chicago Daily News discussing a question of public policy to be submitted to the voters in November, when they will elect delegates to the constitutional convention.

The purpose of the submission is to create a moral obligation, under the public policy act, in favor of the initiative and referendum upon extraordinary radical terms as described by the News
editorial.

The activities in favor of the adoption of the proposition are wholly those of Mr. Hearst and his local agents in independent politics. That fact is not stated in the News' editorial and it needs statement to give full illumination.

A NEW IDEA FOR MEXICO.

We are inclined sometimes to doubt the wisdom of The Tribune's silence with regard to Mexico.
The restraint and moderation of our policy, we know, has been admirable, but occasionally the necessity of saying something about forces utterance.

The many virtues of a policy of "tu" are obvious. We have been enamored of them. They are pleasant to contemplate. They do not demand much energy. "We may still hope that the Mexicans will make the north bank of the Rio Grande safe for democracy. We give them so many examples of how we make Shantung, Fiume, Armenia, Siberia, Siberia, and various other spots safe for democracy that Mexicans may eventually be inspired.

With such thoughts and hopes we have contained ourselves, but when Villa and nine generals announce a program for a Mexican holiday we are tempted to suggest that Mexico should be treated as we treated Cuba. If the idea is a startling one we need not press it.

PRIVATE MURDER.

Mr. Mooney, chief of detectives, told a Tribune reporter that the city needs a homicide squad and that he intends to form one, complete, we imagine, from Sherlock Holmes to Dr. Watson, with all the accessories of pipe, needle, jumping robe, fire of cannon, door bell, and foggy night.

He also suggested, speaking of forty murders which have not been solved, that some of them were beneficial. "There have been a lot of killings among the crooks themselves," he said.
"Wasn't that a good thing?"

In a direct utilitarian fashion probably it was.
A good crook may be a crooked crook, but we believe there is an indirect disadvantage in the method of summary justice which hurls the community.

These private murders which are the concern only of the parties interested seem to suggest that any kind of a murder has a favor of legality.
They create a presumption of constitutionality.
The police must determine first whether the act was covered by the bill of rights.

A safer custom might be to assume that no murders are permissible. The creation of a privileged class is undemocratic. The criminal classes ought not to have any more rights than any other class.
They are not entitled to them. They do not pay any more taxes than most men of moderate means.

We view with alarm the growth of privilege in the United States.

Americans are not sufficiently informed of the objects of the railway strike in Great Britain to have an opinion as to its justice, but we cannot fail to appreciate the gravity of the action taken at this time. Great Britain has emerged from the war with a debt four times as heavy as that which was piled up during her long struggle against Napoleon. Her business is disorganized.
The cost of necessities has risen to a dizzy height.
And this condition is a culmination of a long period of labor policy, which has steadily reduced Britain's industrial efficiency, through the artificial restriction of output imposed by British workers in what they thought to be a defense against exploitation.

If the British in spite of this drastic weakening of their resources and powers continue to carry on an internecine warfare, they will very rapidly fall behind in world competition and enter upon a period of enfeeblement and misery for which no radical utopia can compensate.

Are some of the nations of Europe bent on committing suicide? A struggle for radical revolution in England might finish the British. In France, for several generations, a strict limitation on births has kept her population stationary and a corresponding spirit of conservatism has restricted her economic expansion and modernization. In Italy, Imperialism and red radicalism are ready to fall upon each other in a suicidal struggle. Russia broke out of centuries of darkness, and, mad with light, began to destroy instead of to build. Thus the greater nationalities of Europe at the moment seem to be on the brink of self-destruction, fighting exhaustive internal wars among the ruins their international rivalries have made, instead of joining in restorative labor.

There is, however, one exception. The German people alone seem to have grasped the paramount vital importance of peace and work. Although they suffered one of the most staggering disappointments and moral reactions in history and were for a moment carried into a whirlpool of anarchy, they have regained self-control and clarity of mind with unequalled promptness. Destructive radicalism has been put in bonds, the harsh facts of their situation have been faced courageously, the inevitable has been accepted without despair, and rebuilding has begun.

This is an astonishing achievement of race character and national intelligence, and it most certainly will be rewarded. We may think what we please of the faults of German Kultur and of the German national character, but Germany offers its rivals today an example they would do well to ponder and to imitate. If the Germans work hard producing while the British, French, Italians, and Americans are striking, tying up industry, cutting down hours of work, slowing down work even during the hours of work, increasing wages to a point which leaves no margin for capital, there will be and can be only one result. Work, especially when it is as intelligently directed as in Germany, will produce wealth. Idleness will destroy it. Thrift will conserve wealth. Extravagance will waste it.
Germany is going to recover and pass her rivals if they idle and wrangle and waste while Germany works and saves.

Editorial of the Day

A QUESTION OF PUBLIC POLICY.

(From the Chicago Daily News.)

"Shall the members of the fifth constitutional convention be instructed to submit a proposal for the initiative and referendum; the term initiative, as herein used, meaning the power to bring proposed laws and constitutional amendments to popular vote, at any regular election, by petition of 100,000 electors at large, all measures so submitted to become laws when approved by a majority of those voting thereon; the term referendum, as herein used, meaning the power to suspend, amend or repeal any act of the legislature, by petition of 50,000 electors at large, until such act or acts shall have been referred to popular vote and approved by a majority of those voting thereon?"

This question—it is further amplified to apply also to local legislation—is to be submitted to the voters in November, when they will elect delegates to the constitutional convention. Its purpose is to create a moral obligation, under the public policy act, in favor of the initiative and referendum upon extraordinary radical terms as described by the News
editorial.

The activities in favor of the adoption of the

THE MISSISSIPPI.

(From the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.)

The Mississippi river and its navigable tributaries form an unequalled system that reaches throughout the most productive region in the world. What it produces is in demand in other continents, and they have crops and merchandise to exchange for ours with mutual profit. But our arteries of communication are insufficient. They are often clogged and plainly seen to be inadequate for a time but for all the time. Yet congress gives little thought from session to session to a permanent opening of the Mississippi commercially.

(From "A Golden Age of Authors," Ellsworth.)

Mark Twain's "Celebrated Jumping Frog" came out in book form in 1867, and my old friend George W. Carleton was a prominent New York publisher at the time, issuing the works of Artemus Ward and other American humorists. One of his stories was that Mark Twain came into his store and offered him the manuscript of "The Jumping Frog," and that he declined it "because the author looked so disreputable."

PERFECTION AND EVANESCENCE.
(Arthur Symons, "Montserrat.")
I have always held that it is unwise to ask of any perfect thing duration as well as existence.
Supreme happiness, if it could be continued indefinitely, would in time, without losing its essence, lose its supremacy, which exists only by contrast. When I have seen a face, a landscape, an aspect of the sky, pass for a moment into a se-rie of crisis, in which it attained the perfect expression of itself, I have always turned away rapidly, clogging my eyes on the picture, which I dread to see fade or blur before me. I would obtain from things, as from people, only their best; and I hold it to be not only wisdom towards oneself, but a point of honour towards them. Therefore, intending as I did to make a long stay in Montserrat, and having provided myself, in case of difficulty, with a letter to the Abbot I left, without regret, at the end of the traditional three days, certain that I could get nothing more poignant in its happiness than what those three days had given me, and that by leaving at the moment of perfection I was preserving for myself an incomparable memory, which would always rise for me, out of the plain of ordinary days, like the mountain itself, Montserrat, where I had perhaps seen the Holy Grail.

WE hope the few extracts which we have printed from Mr. Symons' book, "Cities and Sea-Coasts and Islands," will lead lovers of good English to acquire the volume. The reason of open fire is at hand, and good essays or sketches of the Symons sort are not too numerous.

gests that he receive a salary of £12 per year.

How to Keep Well.
By Dr. W. A. Evans.

Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation, and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. Where space will not permit, or the subject is not suitable, letters will be personally answered, subject to proper limitations, and where a stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed, Dr. Evans will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases. Requests for such service cannot be answered.

Making a prognosis in tuberculosis is has-ardous. I cannot form an opinion in this case. It is commonly among physicians specializing in tuberculosis to put the patient to bed for weeks and watch him before making a prognosis.

ASKS MANY QUESTIONS.
R. Z. R. writes: "I should like to know your opinion of a purely vegetable diet."

1. Is butter a meat substitute?
2. Cottage cheese?
3. I should like especially to know the best foods to use in place of meat.
4. Would it be possible for a person having his appendix ruptured in two places to recover without operation?
5. What is the use of an appendicitis?
6. I have been told that the nuts in some of the so-called Jordan almonds (a candy) are peach pits. Are these injurious?
7. Is it possible to "eat and grow thin" on a vegetable diet?
8. What vegetables?

REPLY.
1. No.
2. Yes. Use bread, cereals, potatoes, peas, beans, and the various vegetables, nuts, fats, and fruits. I do not know why you wish to avoid meat, but if your only object is to substitute vegetable for animal protein, you will find the proteins in bread, cereals, soy beans, and other beans and peas stand at the head of the list.

3. Yes. It may well off and heal with a good many adhesions.
4. It is not known.
5. I do not think eating Jordan almonds in moderation is injurious to one who toler-ates sugar well.

6. Yes.
7. Especially those containing less than 6 per cent of starch and sugar. Among them are rhubarb, radish, marrow, celery, tomatoes, sprouts, artichokes, eggplant, cabbage, lettuce, cucumbers, spinach, asparagus, string beans, turnips, pumpkin, butternut, and kale.

8. Yes. It may well off and heal with a

QUIT THE BALTIC; MAKE IT SNAPPY: ALLIES TO BERLIN

Blockade Club and Foch's Sword Swing Over German Rulers.

EST A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.
Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—
[Special.]—The state department made public tonight a peremptory demand by the allied and associated powers upon the German government in the note dispatched Sept. 27, insisting upon complete and immediate compliance with the terms of article 12 of the armistice, requiring evacuation from all Russian territory.

The text of the note to the German government is as follows:
"According to article 12 of the armistice of Nov. 11, 1918, Germany subscribed to the following engagement:
"All German troops at present in any territory which before the war belonged to Austria-Hungary, Roumania or Turkey, shall withdraw within the frontiers of Germany as they existed Aug. 1, 1914, and all German troops at present in territories which, before the war, formed part of Russia, must likewise return to within the frontiers of Germany, above defined, as soon as the allies shall think the moment suitable, having regard to the internal situation in these territories.
"On Aug. 27, Marshal Foch, commander-in-chief of the allied and associated armies, made known the time had come for Germany to evacuate the said territories and summoned the German government to proceed thereto immediately.

"By its note of Sept. 3, the German government endeavored to evade the engagement above referred to by alleging that the allied and associated powers were unable to consider the allied and associated governments refused, particularly to admit that the German government can, in order to avoid responsibility, shield itself behind alleged inability to enforce obedience to its orders by troops in the Baltic region.
"Get Out of There at Once."
"They therefore request Germany to proceed without delay the evacuation of all German troops, staffs, and services included now in the Baltic provinces.
"Evacuation must be started immediately and continue without interruption.
"The allied and associated governments hereby notify that unless they are satisfied that their demands are being effectively executed they will not entertain any of the applications put forward by the German government for supplies of foodstuffs and raw materials. They have consequently given instructions not to proceed with the examination of any of these applications.

"Furthermore, the allied and associated governments will refuse all financial facilities which the German government is enjoying at the present time, or which it is seeking from the allied and associated governments or their nationals.
"In the event of noncompliance on the part of the German government the allied and associated powers will take such measure as they shall judge necessary to enforce the aforesaid terms of the armistice."
Allies Tired of Trifling.
PARIS, Sept. 30.—[By the Associated Press.]—German's recall of Gen.
von der Goltz from the Baltic region will not satisfy the supreme council.
The German soldiers now in this region are variously estimated at from 50,000 to 100,000. They apparently are determined to restore the old Russian regime there.
Members of the peace delegations repeatedly have conferred with Baron Kurt von Lersner, head of the German mission, concerning Von der Goltz and his forces, and the German government had agreed to remove them.
The slowness in action, however, has resulted in great disorder in the Baltic states.

MAN WHO HEARD OF ALL FAMILY WOES IS DEAD

John J. Gardner of 325 South Ashland boulevard, who served the Municipal court several years as chief of the complaint department of the Court of Domestic Relations and who also had been a member of the state legislature of Illinois, died yesterday after an illness of several months. He was 37 years old and was noted for high efficiency, both in the legislature and in his work in connection with the courts, which he served fourteen years.
One time Gardner said: "There isn't a law to protect a husband. A woman can desert her husband and can't be made to live with him, but a man can be compelled to support an unworthy wife. I am with a woman every time, but a woman's walls and wiles get the upper hand. Man's inherent chivalry,
I guess."
Mr. Gardner was born in Chicago in 1882.

Out of the Beaten Path

At the Northeast Corner of Halsted and Fourteenth Streets

One of a series of daily advertisements preparatory to the celebration of the completion of our Fiftieth Golden Year

There are many thousand residents of Chicago who never saw the Northeast corner of Halsted and Fourteenth Street; and many thousands of others who have seen it, didn't see anything worth stopping for.

Yet on this particular spot is one of the unique institutions of Chicago—a department store which has been building for fifty years, and every year has shown an increase; a business of ideals; of a liberal conception of service; of an old-fashioned idea of integrity, and a new-fashioned idea of its duty to the community. An institution which believes in its customers, and whose customers believe in it.

Naturally, such a policy cannot be circumscribed by a neighborhood. The territory surrounding Halsted and Fourteenth Streets, important as it is, isn't big enough for such a policy. The result is that from Lake Forest and Aurora, from Gary and Joliet, and from the remote districts of Chicago customers are drawn to this store. Year after year they have come, and today their children and grandchildren are coming.

You may think our location is a serious limitation, that people would never go so far out of a beaten path to buy their daily needs. Perhaps you are right; but they will go out of the way to visit a friendly store, to secure a definite service. Our growth and development prove it.

The Freedom of a Single Neutral Color

The artist first places upon his canvas the base color of his portrait background. The finished picture may be quiet or high in color, but the background holds the elements of the neutral base.

This is the key in the color scheme of modern home decoration. Walls and carpeting form the neutral background upon which the subdued or colorful effects in other furnishings are harmonized or contrasted.

Wide-Loom Seamless Chenille Carpet Rugs

After Careful Consideration This Store Has Decided to Feature the

Thor Washing Machine

Here is the most practical solution of the wash-day problem, we believe.

The Thor Electric Washing Machine—now developed to mechanical perfection—removes the worry and drudgery of wash day.

The day's washing is accomplished in a remarkably short time. In fact, practically only half the time is required that is taken by the ordinary method. And the cost of operation for the entire washing is very small.

No more rubbing of clothes—an operation hard on the clothes, and tiring to hands, arms and back. The wooden cylinder is the washing agent. At each revolution the hot suds are forced through and through the clothes, actually washing out the dirt instead of rubbing it out.

Practical Features Distinctive in the Thor—

The dirt settles to the bottom of the machine during the process, and remains there until the washing is completed.

The machine is cleaned easily by merely pouring fresh water into it, putting it into operation, then letting the water and dirt drain out.

Enameled entirely in white, the machine is sanitary, clean in appearance, and easy to keep clean.

Washing and wringing may be carried on at the same time. This is made possible by the Atalog, a feature of the Thor which prevents the motor from burning when overworked.

Moving parts are enclosed. No exposed chains or belts to get out of order or catch the clothes of the operator.

Two levers and one push button are the only controlling devices.

Come to this Housewares Section and have the Thor Demonstrated. This machine may be purchased on the partial payment plan if desired.

SCHEME TO OUST JUVENILE COURT JUDGE EXPOSED

Boys Charged with Seeking Publicity by Attack on Arnold.

Details of a crusade that had been conducted quietly by the Boys' Brotherhood Republic to oust Judge Victor P. Arnold from the bench of the juvenile court and install Judge Merritt W. Pinckney instead were disclosed yesterday.

Though the movement has been quietly whipped into shape, it is charged by friends of Judge Arnold that the entire scheme was conceived as a plan to secure publicity for the boys' organization.

According to former members of the republic the movement was instituted by Jack Dwork, present mayor of the association, and Jack Robbins, a youthful official referred to by Judge Arnold as a "publicity seeker."

Based on "Licking," the foundation of the crusade was an objection to a decision made by Judge Arnold several weeks ago, when the jurist allowed a father to administer an old fashioned "licking" to an unruly son.

"I am greatly surprised to hear of the movement," said Judge Arnold yesterday. "As I get the facts these boys have selected one case out of the 10,000 I have heard and they say I was wrong, when I wasn't wrong."

"I had the father of that boy give him a thrashing because the boy needed it. That whipping did that if the more good than ten years at St. Charles. He is a good boy now. I do not have to defend myself from this attack. My record speaks for itself. Any of the judges will speak for me."

Judge Gives His Side.

Judge Arnold said that he was in sympathy with the Boys' Brotherhood Republic as long as it remained an organization conducted for the good of the boys themselves and not to obtain publicity for notoriety-seeking youths.

Three former "mayors" of the association who have resigned, as they say, "because the organization had lost its principle," have not been in favor of the attack upon Judge Arnold.

One of them is Harry Branovitz, who is now a probation officer. "I know that Jack Robbins got up at a meeting and asserted that if the brotherhood conducted this crusade it would receive much publicity—headlines on the first page and pictures and that sort of thing," said Branovitz. "That is what they wanted. Perhaps they were sincere in their attack, but—well, it is hard to believe."

Pinckney Declines Job.

A short time ago Louis Fox, one of the ringleaders of the boys' club, called on Judge Pinckney and "offered" him Judge Arnold's job. Judge Pinckney quickly declined.

"Judge Arnold is better fitted for the position than I," said Judge Pinckney at the time.

ARREST CHECKS VOYAGE OF THE BLACK STAR LINE

Stock Salesman for New Ship Company Seized.

The Hon. Marcus Garvey, president of a new steamship line—the Black Star—which is destined to sail the seas between America and the republic of Liberia, was disturbed last night while seated on the platform of the 8th regiment armory. Mr. Garvey, who is colored, is president general of the Universal Negro Improvement Association of the World. He was clad in evening dress, in readiness to expound to 150 assembled Negroes the glories of the proposed Black Star line.

The interruption to President General Garvey's evening was occasioned by Detective Sergeant George M. Friend, who appeared and got him into a patrol wagon without any of the audience knowing what had happened. Garvey was booked at the detective bureau for violation of the blue sky law.

Stock Sales Planned.

One of the purposes of the Hon. Mr. Garvey's sojourn in Chicago, it appears, was to sell stock in the steamship line, which was incorporated in Delaware. Only Negroes were eligible to purchase.

S. A. Brusseaux, a private detective, got hold of a couple of shares on Monday and brought them down to Atty. Gen. Brundage's office. Then the warrant was issued.

Meanwhile, as the speaker of the evening was riding towards the loop in

MISDIRECTED LOVE AND NO LOVE AT ALL WIN WIVES DECREES

MRS. MARION K. STEPHENSON, 5027 East Seventy-first street, came to the divorce courts yesterday.

"My husband, Paschal, was infatuated with another woman," she said. "I hired a detective, the detective investigated, I was led to a discovery; the girl was in her kimono, my husband admitted intimacy. That's all."

"Decree," said Judge Cooper.

Earl R. Tuller, 6447 Shields avenue, said Vida had deserted.

"There was another man," he explained, and won a divorce.

Mrs. Lagouri Ludwig said William was cruel. Decree.

Marie Belza, 958 North Ashland avenue, accused Vincent of cruelty. Decree.

The machine with the blue-livered chauffeur, the Rev. Dr. R. Eton took the platform and declaimed of the promised land.

"We are all descendants of the black man, Ham," he shouted, amid much applause, "and we might as well get together for our own benefit."

A Candidate's Picture.

"Our brightlight in Liberia has been lost to us. The white man has gone there and got rich on rubber, gold, ivory, diamonds, and rubies. And so we are going to buy ships of our own, carry on our own commerce, and then, when we get ready, take our own people back to the African republic by the thousands. We'll make Liberia bioson as the rose."

"JOIN SEVENTH," PLEA MADE BY JUDGE KAVANAGH

An appeal for the upbuilding of the old 7th infantry, I. N. G., was made yesterday by Judge Marcus Kavanagh of the Superior court, former commander of the regiment, as follows:

"Gov. Lowden has commissioned Col. Henry J. Reilly of 'Reilly's Bucks' to reorganise the old 7th. No better soldier wore the uniform than Col. Reilly."

"While patriotic young men of all races will find a hearty welcome, I especially appeal to men of Irish blood to keep up the regiment's proud old traditions, and so to serve their state and country. The fine army, swimming pool, gymnasium, projected library and social functions guarantee, on the one hand, all the advantages of an enjoyable club, while the military ideals of service to the state and nation, their habits of discipline and order, leave a lasting impress upon the characters of the volunteer soldiers.

"To the parents of young men I wish to testify that in the last five years of my experience in the Criminal court I do not recall an indictment against a national guardman. The exercises of discipline, manliness and patriotism are a preventive against the uncleanness and unworthy amusements of the city streets."

"A recruiting office has been opened at the northwest corner of Adams and Dearborn streets. Maj. Edward White of 100 Monroe street, himself with a fine record both here and in the Philippines, is acting adjutant and will also receive enlistments."

"Only a dozen? Hell," she said, "I can eat 'em myself!"

Yes, Sydney McKnight, the heroine of Vingie E. Roe's "Sydney of Red Mountain House," was a queer sort of girl. She could wear like a trooper when occasion demanded or be as soft and feminine as any debutante when the mood was on her. When David offered her his entire catch of mountain trout she ridiculed his offer with an oath, but the twinkle in her eye relieved the word of all evil and Dave vowed she was the most adorable maid he had ever beheld. Later on she greeted him on the porch of Red Mountain House.

While the Sheriff waited—

But this time she knew Dave was "wanted"—that Buck Selene, the "go-getter" sheriff of Menlo county, would arrest him on sight. How could she prevent their meeting—that was Sydney's problem—and one that took every atom of her woman's ingenuity. For Sydney loved Dave. Don't miss this fascinating story. The third of The Tribune's Blue Ribbon series. It appears complete in next Sunday's Tribune. Order yours in advance!

ARMY OF MERCY MAKES NEW CALL FOR VOLUNTEERS

$1,500,000 Quota Within Reach if More Women Aid, Is Plea.

Only one thing is lacking to insure the complete success of the Salvation Army home service campaign—more workers, principally women. The "drive" ends in four days.

"Our organization has been perfected since Monday," said Staff Captain C. A. Ryan last night, "and subscriptions are coming in at a livelier rate. The success of the campaign now hinges on our ability to get enough volunteer workers."

"Thousands are only waiting to be asked to contribute. Therefore, I again ask the women of Chicago to enlist for a day or two, or for the remainder of the campaign."

Despite yesterday's inclement weather, encouraging reports were received from nearly every ward and from the towns throughout the county.

Plans "Doughnut Day."
Society women of the north shore towns will cooperate Friday in a "doughnut day" at Winnetka. Envoys Horstensen Dickinson is in charge. Miss Dickinson returned recently from overseas, where she made $50,000 doughnuts for hungry Yankee doughboys.

In the campaign thus far about $400,000 has been raised in Chicago. If the full quota of $1,500,000 is to be obtained by Saturday night an average of $25,000 must be raised each day.

The Ruetgen family at 2035 South Pauline street, to whose needs attention was called by THE TRIBUNE a couple of weeks ago, has been cared for by the Salvation Army and money received through THE TRIBUNE, so that now, if the Army succeeds in having the oldest girl, an epileptic, placed in a Dizon institution, all necessary emergency relief will have been provided.

Army Takes Quick Action.
On the same day the story appeared in THE TRIBUNE, the Salvation Army sent its staff officer, Adj. Olin, to see the family.

JOHN MITCHELL ESTATE $250,000; WILL INVALID?

White Plains, N. Y., Sept. 30.—(Special.)—According to papers filed with the surrogate at White Plains today, John Mitchell, the former head of the United Mine Workers of America, left a will disposing of an estate valued at $250,000.

The will was written by Mr. Mitchell himself, on his personal stationery, Aug. 30, just previous to his undergoing an operation, and it is claimed it is invalid because it bears only his own signature.

His Story

An intimate portrait of Foch, the man, who in boyhood made a vow to win back the lost provinces of France. Of his military genius the world already knows much, but there is a great deal about the human side of the great French Marshal which the public will read with interest for the first time in this story of his life, written by one of his closest friends.

Contributions by Uncle Joe Cannon, the veteran ex-Speaker, and Philip Gibbs, the eminent English journalist, are but two of a score of other equally entertaining features in the

DEMOCRATS HIT ON PLAN TO FILL SCULLY VACANCY

Slatting of O'Connor and Election in April Proposed.

The latest suggestion for a solution of the problem of filling court vacancies comes from high Democratic sources and may be converted into definite plan of action at the Democratic county convention tomorrow.

It is to slat Judge John M. O'Connor for county judge, instead of for the Guerin vacancy in the Superior court, and to nominate two candidates for the Guerin and F. A. Smith vacancies.

The special election for the Scully county judge vacancy, in this event, would be held in April, and the nomination of Judge O'Connor would come at the time of the aldermanic primaries.

This proposition was taken under serious consideration by the Democratic leaders yesterday after definite word had come to them that the Republicans will not enter into a non-partisan deal to nominate one Republican and one Democrat for the Superior and Circuit court vacancies.

The Republicans remain much at sea over the two nominations that are to be made in their county convention tomorrow morning. From the city hall came the final word that the mayor's friends will have no candidate for judge, but will participate in the convention and go along with the nominees, whatever the convention result.

This followed a conference of city hall leaders yesterday afternoon. This leaves the way open for the Brundage people to name one candidate and the Democrats force one. The Brundage committee, in conference at the Hotel Morrison, determined to present the name of Master in Chancery Louis J. Behan.

The Deenen faction may decide to go through with George W. Underwood of the Second ward. G. Fred Rush and Judge J. C. Newcomer are also talked of.

10,000 PRESSMEN IN N. Y. LOCKED OUT BY PRINTERS

New York, Sept. 30.—Initial action in the dispute between printing pressmen and employers, which has threatened a strike tomorrow, came today when a decision to close the pressrooms of commercial printing houses representing 75 per cent of the trade here was voted at an executive meeting of the printers' league section of the Association of Employing Printers.

The closing was voted "irrespective of any and all developments." More than 10,000 pressmen are said to be affected.

Publication of 152 periodicals here will be stopped "temporarily," Col. William Green, head of the United Typothetae of America, announced.

Instructions include the stipulation that "on and after Oct. 1, 1914," none but members of local unions in good standing with their respective international union affiliated with the American Federation of Labor shall be employed.

U. OF C. TEACHER 'STRIKES' TO AID HARVARD STAFF

Chicago's Harvard alumni gathered at the Hotel LaSalle yesterday to set out on their campaign to raise $1,000,000 in Illinois as this state's share of the $15,540,000 fund, the income from which is to be used for raising the salaries of Harvard professors 50 per cent.

Prof. Paul Shorey of the University of Chicago faculty was one of the principal speakers at the meeting.

"For a professor of the University of Chicago, who is to be granted an 80 per cent raise, to appear here pleading for a 50 per cent raise for Harvard professors savors of what might be called in the world of labor a sympathetic strike," said the professor.

The speaker pointed out that although a business could not operate at a constantly increasing deficit, universities were now often compelled to sacrifice standards of teaching and equipment because of financial difficulties.

Mitchell D. Fallows, chairman of the Illinois committee which will work for the salary boosting fund, outlined the proposed drive.

East Raises $1,000,000.
New York, Sept. 30.—Nearly $1,000,000 has been raised in two days for Harvard university's $15,000,000 endowment fund, a large part of which is to be used in increasing the salaries of professors and instructors. It was announced here today.

A member of the class of '96 contributed a round $100,000, as did Thomas W. Lamont of J. P. Morgan & Co. President Lowell of Harvard and Elliot Wadsworth gave $25,000 each.

Gives More Than Salary.
Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 30.—The gift of President A. Lawrence Lowell to the Harvard endowment fund is two and one-half times the amount he receives each year from the university.

President Lowell is understood to have made a practice of contributing each year toward the salaries of various professors.

WORK HARDER, WRANGLE LESS, ADVICE TO LABOR

W. T. Fenton Calls Socialism Chief U. S. Menace.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 30.—W. T. Fenton, vice president of the National Bank of the Republic, Chicago, who is a delegate to the convention of the American Bankers' association here, declared in an interview today that socialism is the only real menace to the United States today.

"What is needed in this country," he said, "is less talking and more work. We are suffering from a curtailment of production in almost every essential line."

"If the business men of the United States would stop fighting each other and organize along the lines of the sound money party which we had in 1896, it would be only a little while until bolshevism and socialism would be silenced and business conditions in this country would reflect normal conditions."

Would Return Railroads.
"The railroads must be taken out of the hands of the government, and turned back to their owners. It has been amply demonstrated that only men of long experience are capable of managing the great railroad systems of the country."

"It is preposterous to suppose that the employees of the government, who are largely appointed because of political influence, can bring any efficiency to a great industrial organization in which they have no personal interest."

"The substantial business interests of the country are urging congress to adopt the Warfield plan for railroad legislation."

Convention Opens Session.
The convention was opened at the Shubert-Jefferson theater this morning with an address of welcome by Frank O. Watts of St. Louis, former president of the association, and a response by John S. Drum of San Francisco, vice president.

The annual address was read by President R. F. Maddox. John Barrett of the Pan-American union, also spoke at the session.

Senator Owen of Oklahoma, who spoke on "Stability in Commerce and Government," said:

"There should be a campaign in the United States, through moving pictures, and on the forum, in the press and in the pulpit, to teach men the dignity and need for honest labor and production, the shame of waste, and the dishonor of willful extravagance, and to discredit the vain ostentation of wealth."

The report of the association's protective department showed that 146 banks were robbed during the year ending Sept. 1 last, and $93,100 stolen. Illinois led with 45 bank burglaries, Indiana was next with 16, and Missouri third with 8.

Construction Has Begun on the Addition to Rosehill Mausoleum

The idea of Mausoleum burial has been so well received, Rosehill Cemetery Company has found it necessary to erect an addition to this magnificent structure. This addition will contain twenty-two beautiful Memorial Rooms, which will exceed in grandeur of design and beauty of detail that of any Mausoleum in the country.

The excavation has already commenced and the foundations are expected to be completed before frost this Fall, ready for an early start on the structure next Spring.

Subscriptions are rapidly being made for Memorial Rooms, and as the number of rooms available is limited, an early selection is advisable. In the present building there remains a limited number of Family Sections and Single Crypts.

Very attractive features will be explained at our office, where plans and specifications may be seen. The perpetual maintenance of the building has been provided for by a Trust Fund exceeding $120,000.00.

STATE AWAKENS TO "JOKERS" IN I. AND R. PLANS

Demands of "Gateway Amendment League" Stir Candidates.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

Illinois is just awakening to the real meaning of the three proposed questions of public policy that are to be submitted to the voters at the November election, through the efforts of the "Gateway Amendment League," an organization sponsored largely by opponents of the Hearst interests in Chicago.

Candidates for delegates to the constitutional convention have been contacted with the demand by the league, which maintains headquarters in Hotel Harrison, that they sign "contracts" with the league, to abide by the majority vote in their respective districts on three proposals, and to support them in the exact form in which they are offered.

Language Ultra-Radical.

The form of the three questions is now beginning to attract attention. Study of the wording of the set of three has caused many men and women of pronounced progressive views to oppose strongly the ultra-radicalism of the propositions. Some of the candidates for delegates have returned the signed up "contracts" to the managers of the movement. Others have sharply refused to do so, and a large majority of the delegate candidates have paid no attention to the demand for pledges.

Question No. 1 instructs the constitutional convention to submit to the voters a proposal for the adoption of the initiative and referendum. It then proceeds to define the initiative as the power to bring proposed laws and constitutional amendments to popular vote at any regular election by the petition of 100,000 electors.

Could Suspend Laws.

It defines the referendum as the power to suspend specified act or acts of the Illinois legislature by petition of 50,000 voters, pending an affirmative vote of the people on such suspended legislation. It carries the idea into the realm of local affairs by specifying that all local, special, and municipal legislation is included in the purview of the proposition.

It is pointed out that the present method of amending the constitution requires that an amendment must be submitted by the legislature, by a two-thirds vote in senate and house, and that to be ratified the amendment so submitted must secure a majority of all votes cast at the election.

Grades Legislative Action.

The substitute for this, as proposed in question No. 1, is that the amendment does not have to pass first through the legislature, but goes directly on the ballot on petition of 100,000 voters. State laws of any description may be submitted to popular vote by the petition of 50,000 voters, until a general election can be had for or against approval of the act.

The objection that is now being raised by some of the real friends of the general policy of the initiative and referendum is the comparatively small figure that is fixed in stipulating the number of petitioners required. In only two states now having the initiative and referendum—North Dakota and Mississippi—is an arbitrary figure fixed.

Percentage Is Used.

In all others a percentage of the total vote at the preceding election is the minimum. In Utah, Arizona, Washington, and Nebraska this percentage is ten. In Oregon, Montana, Missouri, Arkansas, Colorado, and California the percentage is eight. In Montana the petition must be representative of two-fifths of the counties, and in Missouri the petition must represent two-thirds of the counties.

In Illinois the arbitrary figure of 100,000 names for the initiative and of 50,000 for the referendum is far below the percentage in the states named.

In 1918 the total men's vote was 1,343,381. Eight per cent would be 107,470. Five per cent would be 67,169.

The total vote of men and women in 1918 was 2,192,707, of which 8 per cent would be 175,416, and 5 per cent would be 109,635. The "contracts" that delegate candidates are asked to sign fix the cold figure of 100,000 for the initiative and 50,000 for the referendum, without any provision for a petition that would be representative, either of Chicago or of the downstate.

Gateway Law Explained.

Question No. 2 is the so-called "Gateway amendment." This binds the delegates who sign the "contracts" to stand for submission of the initiative and referendum as defined in question No. 1, as an independent proposition at the election at which the work of the constitutional convention will be submitted for ratification.

Members of the recent "Gateway Amendment League" convention were frank in stating the purpose of this idea. It is to incorporate the I. & R. on the main constitution and to put it out as a separate proposal, so that in the event of the failure of the voters to ratify the new constitution the I. & R. could be put through as an amendment to the present constitution. The adoption of the separate proposition, it is figured, would obviate the necessity of going to the legislature for submission of an initiative and referendum amendment to the old constitution, should the new constitution fail, and article four of the present constitution, that fixes the method of amendment, would become a dead letter. It is believed that the successful development of this feature of the program is the real purpose of the backers of the movement.

Takes Limit Off Debts.

Question No. 3 provides that the constitutional convention shall submit to the voters constitutional provisions permitting the state, cities, towns, villages, and other municipal corporations and districts the power to acquire, outside of and beyond any constitutional debt limitations, income producing utilities. These are specified as water works, gas works, electric light and power plants, street railways, urban and suburban transportation systems, telephone and telegraph systems, elevated railways, warehouses, elevators, wharves, docks and cold storage plants, and stockyards, abattoirs, and mines.

Courtney's Fate Placed in Hands of Jury Today

Thomas J. Courtney resumed the witness stand yesterday morning to deny accusations that he slew Mrs. Anna Weiskopf and her son William. The state rested its case late in the afternoon. Closing arguments will be heard this morning and the case will go to the jury this afternoon.

WAR RELIEF AND ITS AGENTS NOW FINISHING JOB

Survey Shows Status of Various Activities and Funds.

BY LUCY CALHOUN.

The hundreds of thousands of war workers, the dozens and dozens of patriotic societies, where are they now? What are they doing? Are they continuing their work? Have they any money left, and if so, what is to be done with the money collected for war activities? How will they use it in times of peace?

Let us take first the Red Cross organization in Chicago in whose auxiliary 65,000 Chicago women worked diligently day in and day out producing gauze dressings, hospital garments, refugee clothing, and all the other things needed by this country and her allies to make the armies more efficient and the civilian populations less miserable.

The production end of the Red Cross work stopped in June, but the army of 65,000 women is being kept in reserve and will be called upon in any new membership drive which the Red Cross may launch.

One Group Still Busy.

The only group of Red Cross workers producing garments just now is the naval auxiliary, of which Mrs. Frederick D. Countiss is chairman. These women are still engaged in the making of clothing for the families of soldiers, sailors, and marines, who, through sickness, death, or misfortune due to the war, are unable to care for their families properly. They work directly with the home service department of the Red Cross, which is busier now than it was during the war.

The young women motor drivers have been demobilized, but are ready for emergency work.

The blue gingham canteen workers on the lake front are still busy and they will continue their work for returning soldiers until the last man is home, but the restaurant service, the three hot meals a day which they have served during the war to men in uniform, will be discontinued after tomorrow, Mr. Champion says.

Woman's Committee.

And what of the woman's committee of the Council of National Defense, that organization in which was included all the others? How the women used to swarm in the state council building on Adams street! They moved their headquarters after the armistice to the Fine Arts building and last week they moved out altogether. Their general, Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen, returned to Chicago yesterday and soon she will call a meeting of her executive committee to decide what shall be done with their wartime working fund, consisting of several thousands of dollars.

The war workers of the Young Women's Christian association refuse to be demobilized, although they say their share of the funds collected during the United War Work campaign, amounting to $15,000,000, will be exhausted before the year is out.

"We can't stop work," said Miss Jean Rutherford, finance and publicity secretary in Chicago. "All the girls who were working in munitions factories have to be cared for. Their

ECHOES

Maj. Gen. George Bell Jr., formerly chief of the Prairie division, and commander of Camp Grant for the last five months, yesterday assumed command of the Sixth division at Camp Grant. He will continue as camp commander. Brig. Gen. Lucius L. Duffee, who has been in command of the "Red Star" division, will head the 12th infantry of the sixth brigade.

A special meeting of the auxiliary of company 1, 11th infantry, is called for Friday evening at room 1124, county building, at 8 o'clock.

Salaries were high during the war, but now they have had to take just anything.

"Our work in Russia, Siberia, and France which we started during the war we must also continue or lose all the good. In this country, where two years ago we had six secretaries, we now have fifty."

For Fatherless Children.

Mrs. Walter Brewster, who had charge of the work of the Committee for Fatherless Children of France during the war, is still at the helm and says there are still many little orphans yet to be adopted.

Mrs. Russell Tyson, Chicago head of the American Fund for French Wounded, turned over all the surplus funds of that organization to the work of building an American memorial hospital. She maintains an office in the Stevens building.

The violet cotton uniforms worn by the women workers at the Khaki and Blue club may still be seen, but there is a rumor that it will be hard to support the war camp community service undertakings after Oct. 30. "After that date," said Eugene T. Lees, in charge of the Chicago office, "we expect to be cut down. At present we have forty-seven women on salaries. Of this number, twenty-eight are organizers of Girls' Patriotic Service leagues."

The Farmerettes.

Last, but not least, what of the Farmerettes who worked plow and harrow on the Libertyville training farm of the Woman's land army? They have not failed, declare the women who managed the training farm. When the farm school was abandoned the equipment was presented to a downstate college whose president was willing to put in an agricultural course for women. Some of the Libertyville students went there to finish their training. The graduates have nearly all been placed in lucrative positions. "We accommodate about 300 men every week-end," said W. J. Parker of the Y. M. C. A. "Give them a place to sleep, use of our swimming pool and gym, reading room and other club facilities."

The Y's canteen service is still on the job. More than 10,000 men have been given ninety days' free membership on their discharge. Jobs found for 3,000, and about 7,500 given a vocational guidance.

There are six or seven thousand men at Great Lakes," Mr. Parker said. "Many of them are in Chicago some time during the week and are given the same service the jacks were given during the war."

Salvation Army Busy.

The Salvation Army is looking forward to months of relief work among discharged soldiers and sailors, according to Col. Arthur Brewer, secretary for war work of the Chicago district. "We still maintain our canteen service at the La Salle street station," he said, "meeting troop trains passing through Chicago. Then there are two hotels, at Quincy and Wells and Clark and Lake, with their reading and rest rooms, cots and other comfort facilities. At Great Lakes we maintain a hut."

Every week finds more and more Chicago buyers of motor trucks realizing the value of discriminating in the purchase of their transportation equipment.

Day by day the popularity of GMC trucks increases. Made by one of the oldest truck makers, time has shown that they endure.

Day in and day out service for years has proved their reliability and established the fact that regardless of their price they are economical.

The financial responsibility of the General Motors Corporation, which is back of every GMC truck, insures the permanency of the makers and guarantees continuous service.

The large service station and complete stock of parts at our direct factory branch, established for the convenience of Chicago GMC owners, means prompt service at all times.

Some of the recent purchasers of GMC trucks follow. Most of these are repeat orders from customers who have not only proved the reliability of GMC trucks, but have tested many other makes.

U.S. TOW FLEETS PLAN TO SOLVE RIVER PROBLEM

Freight Experiment Is Analyzed by an Expert.

BY EYE WITNESS.

The biggest experiment in the restoration of Mississippi river commerce depends, but of course even with such an apparatus as the government's new fleet of 1,500 horse power tow boats and bargeboats, the experiment cannot be applied. You know the government sometimes gets a blacksmith to build a coat.

MONTGOMERY MEIGS.

XVI—THE MAJOR'S EQUATION.
As we were cruising along in the Ranger past the old Mormon, and later French-Canadian, town of Nauvoo, and were talking of barge transportation, Maj. Montgomery Meigs told me the story of one of the descendants of the French Canadians of Nauvoo, who fared from the banks of the Mississippi to Paris wearing the regiment carved out and welded together for him by a country tailor of these parts. In Paris the traveler went to a native tailor who, having measured him for a new suit, ran a wedding eye over the rock ribbed seams and square hewn lines of the American production, and said, "Would monsieur be so kind as to tell me what blacksmith built this coat?"

"I did not catch the application of the story at the moment. Later it came out."

BOSSA RIVER LOCK.

Maj. Meigs is the federal functionary who rules the government lock and dry dock in the Keokuk section of the Mississippi with a plump but emphatic hand. His father was quartermaster general in the civil war, and his sister married Archibald Forbes, who, if further relationships must be defined, was the father of modern war correspondence.

The major is shrewd and terse. His value to THE TRIBUNE was that in a few compact phrases he methodized all the much mooted whys and why nots of barge transportation as it relates to the Mississippi and to Illinois' projected links in the lake-to-gulf waterway. He ticked it all off under points and letters about as follows, first giving the points of those who are lukewarm in the matter, and they are many.

The Major's Explanation.

Point one, the major said, is that it is three or four times as far to go up and down the river and get freight gathered in from the back country as it is to go direct into the back country by rail.

(2) At relatively few places are there mechanical appliances for loading and unloading. River commerce is far too frequently dependent on the back of the men.

(3) When the stuff is delivered it is delivered down at the levee, generally at the bottom of a hill, whereas the boxcar goes right to the factory door.

(4) The neater way is to get your stuff in the box car right at your factory door.

(5) Warehouses are now located and arranged for box car delivery.

Terminals Required.
The answer to all this, the major said, is that modern terminals with mechanical arrangements for transfer from barge to box car, and then the belt railroad controlled by the municipalities, are the equivalents of box car delivery at the factory door.

Nowadays shipping agencies are

ONE YEAR AGO TODAY IN THE WAR

French cavalry entered St. Quentin at the heels of retreating Germans.

British under Gen. Allenby captured Damascus and 7,000 Turks.

United States troops forced battle with Germans in Argonne region.

fighting truckage cost by using little terminal trucks, and trains of trucks that run around and haul the stuff anywhere. Another scheme is the use of overhead tracks with little cars that run suspended, to lift freight from deck to dock and then up and across the height. The electric truck with trailers is said to be gaining preference. There have been governmental intimations, the major has heard, that unless the towns build modern terminals the government will quit trying to improve the river. "Very unjust," he thought, because the railroads have been allowed to destroy steamboat competition by discriminatory rates, so that the boats could not live—and allowed to do it by the government.

Maj. Meigs was as enthusiastic as constitutional caution permitted him to be over the government's current work of building twenty-six huge barges for the upper Mississippi, and a similar fleet for traffic from St. Louis down, to see if it can restore river commerce.

$5,000,000 Outlay.

Cost of the combined fleets will be between $5,000,000 and $7,000,000, and it will be the first government owned and government operated barge line. The three steam tows for the upper river, will cost $350,000 each. On the lower river the tows will be screw propelled, on the upper, stern wheelers. They are going to tow iron ore from St. Paul to St. Louis, and coal from St. Louis north, thus giving balanced transportation.

"Now," said Maj. Meigs, "if that plan can be demonstrated a success, and if it can be economically extended to other freight, there'll be no question about terminals being built by the municipalities. But at present they are in the position of the Missourian who wants to be shown. One or two emergency barges have been launched on the upper Mississippi already. Unfortunately they chose mid-September, when the water is at its lowest and the channel not yet finished."

was then that the major winked solemnly at the shining spires of Nauvoo and muttered something further about coats and blacksmiths. I wondered whether he had not in the back of his spacious head also some thoughts of how the government has just come out with a $500,000 deficit as a result of its first year's experimenting with a fleet of emergency barges at and below St. Louis, and how it sank one whole bargeload of coals and had to pay the damage.

Houseman Asks $25,000 from Surface Lines

Lou M. Houseman, for many years a theatrical press agent in Chicago, yesterday filed the praecipe in a suit for $25,000 damages against the Chicago Surface Lines. Houseman could not be reached, but it is believed the suit results from a collision between Houseman's automobile and a surface car at Madison and Market streets several months ago.

The new double-breasteds

THEY'VE "hit the mark" with young men. Maybe it's because they're such a complete change from the single-breasted army blouse; maybe it's because they set off the broader chests so well; make young men look wiry, athletic.

The old double-breasteds were square and bulky looking; few men could wear them.

The new double-breasteds as we make them look well on any man; one, two and three button models; some with belts.

These are not at all like the bed davenports you usually see. The designing of Pullmans is equal to and in many numbers superior to that of the finest stationary davenports—Italian Renaissance, Hepplewhite, Sheraton, Louis XVI, Chippendale—all the periods are represented.

If you are interested in a beautifully designed davenport that is just as comfortable and has the appearance of the best to be had, and at the same time has the added utility of a good bed, the Pullman is without doubt the bed davenport you will like the best.

SOX, QUIETLY CONFIDENT, A WAIT CLASH WITH REDS TODAY

CICOTTE AND RUETHER PICKED TO PITCH IN OPENING BATTLE

Playing Weather Promised for Inaugural of World's Series.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 30.—[Special.]—Quietly but intensely confident of their ability to crown their 1919 league championship with a world's pennant, Chicago's White Sox today put the finishing touches on their preparation for what every one expects will be one of the hardest fought post season contests since baseball outgrew its infancy. It will begin at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, weather permitting. There was nothing boastful about the way Gleason's men talked or acted in accepting the welcome which Cincinnati fans gave them this morning, but they told everybody frankly they had come here to trim the Reds and expected to accomplish the purpose of their visit. In the camp of Moran there is apparently the same amount of confidence and a fixed determination to disappoint the invaders in their anticipations.

Cicotte vs. Ruether. It is practically a certainty the Sox will send Eddie Cicotte to the plate and that the Red leader will ask Walter Ruether to oppose the Chicago star.

The first game is not as big a factor in the contest as it was when four out of seven would cap the season and the big end of the coin. Still it is sufficiently important to call for the best pitching that each manager has and that means Cicotte and Ruether. The Reds are predominantly left-handed in batting with Wingo behind the bat, and some managers might feed them southpaw pitching at the start, but I believe Gleason will play his ace for the first trick instead of holding Cicotte in reserve. Moran plans to try to stop Eddie Collins and Joe Jackson and naturally will expect a southpaw to do it most effectively.

Grob to Play Third. Every player on both teams with the possible exception of Helme Grob is on his toes and in perfectly prime shape for the battle. Grob will play third base, the Red manager declares, but whether or not he will be in the series form after nursing a broken finger for so many weeks cannot be foretold. The rest of the men are in shape to give their utmost in the line of endeavor without a physical alibi. Through the courtesy of Manager Moran and the Red clubowners, the local park was turned over to the White Sox for their exclusive use this morning and Gleason had all his men work out both in batting and fielding, and then dismissed them for the day. After lunch the whole Sox party journeyed to the racetrack to try to beat the parimutuels and also keep their minds off the business which brought them here.

Trial Practice for Reds. The Reds spent the afternoon in practice at the ball park, and when Moran dismissed them he said he was satisfied every man was ready. An incident of the Reds' workout was the appearance of Joe Tinker and Jack Pfeister, former Cub stars, in uniform in an effort to show up some of Moran's youngsters, which Joe and Jack claimed they had done. Moran was noncommittal, but added his two former pals might have slipped the Reds a few pointers about the way to win ball games.

Preparations at the Reds' park have been completed and every ticket, including those for the bleachers, has been sold. The Cincinnati club introduced the innovation of selling even the general admission seats in advance, instead of on the morning of the game, as has been the rule everywhere else and as will be done in Chicago next Friday, Saturday, and Sunday mornings—unless it rains here.

Federal Curb on Scalpers. The result may be that Cincinnati scalpers will be able to handle general admission tickets as well as those for reserved seats, but the federal government is watching the scalpers both here and in Chicago with such determination that it is not believed their operations will be as general as in some previous falls. A certain number of aliens from distant cities will pay any price the scalpers ask for seats, but agents of the government plan to see that Uncle Sam gets a fifty-fifty split of the excess cost if the scalpers ask more than 50 cents in excess of the face value of the tickets.

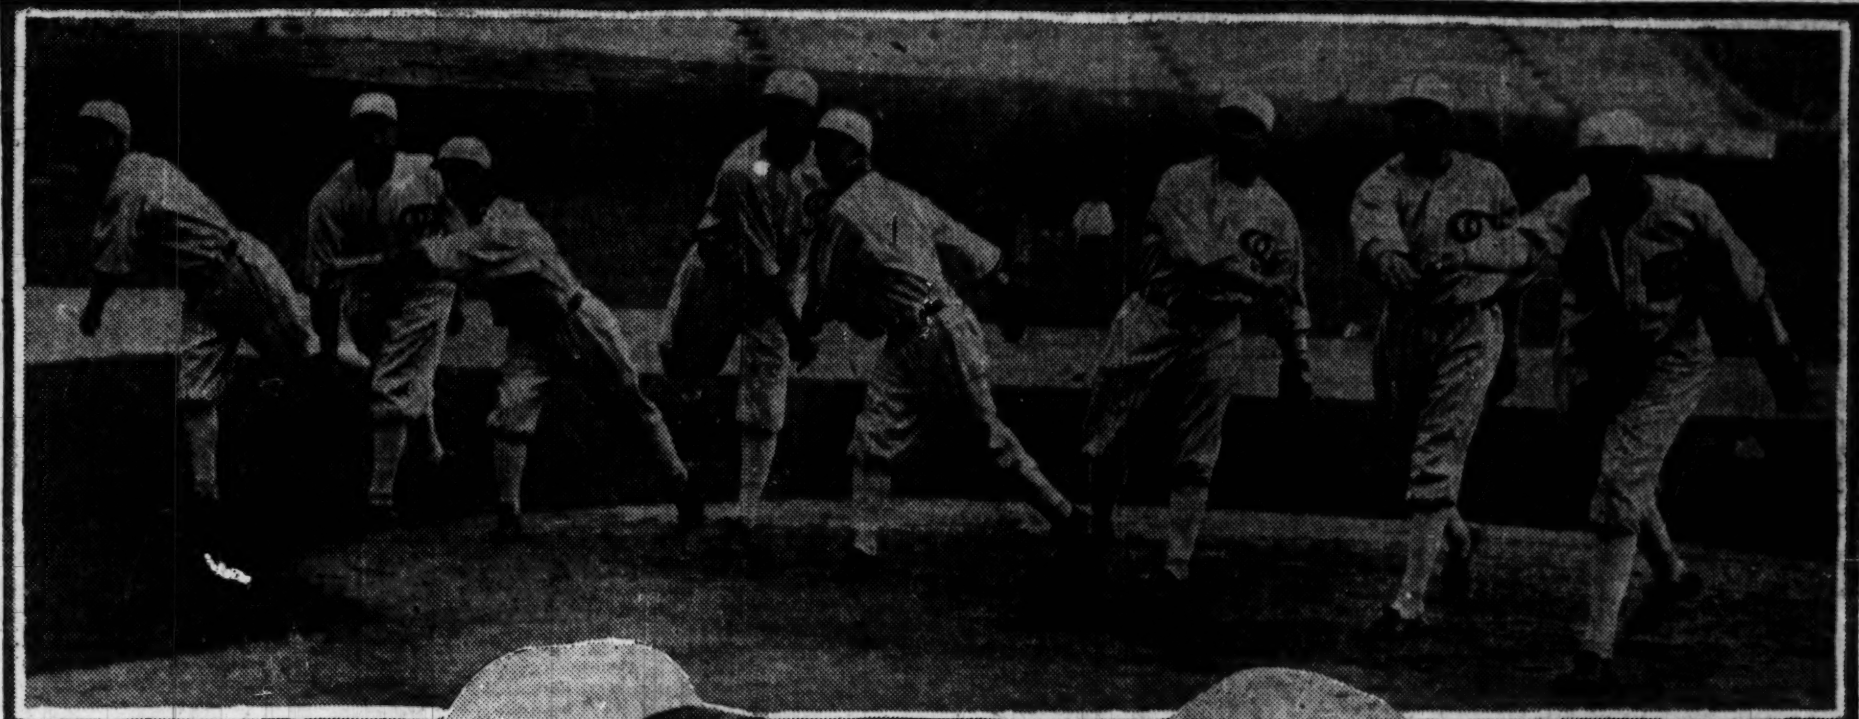

Moreover, the Ohio laws make it compulsory to take out an occupational license if you want to scalp world's series tickets or even take photographs of world's series players.

Clay Congested Spot. Cincinnati was congested with advance arrivals for the big series as early as Sunday. Every incoming train today has increased the congestion, and hotel clerks wear a stereotyped smile of derision when any one with a reservation less than a month old asks for accommodations. The business men have opened a bureau, through which nearly 1,000 rooms to rent in private homes have been listed, and still there is a good chance that every billiard table in town will have to accommodate two or three fans by tomorrow night.

Promises of Playing Weather. In spite of the popular vote which made Cincinnati dry last May, it was wet today, not in spots but everywhere. Heavy thunder showers in the late afternoon delayed things copiously, but brought hopes of fair skies tomorrow. The local weather shark says conditions are inclined to be unsettled, but with the chances in favor of no more rain in the southern part of Ohio. If he is correct in his prognostications, even the league of nations and the steel strike will have to step aside while Uncle Sam bends over the ticker from 2 p. m. until he knows who won the first game of the 1919 world's

SOX AS THEY APPEARED YESTERDAY WORKING OUT RIGHT IN MORAN'S OWN YARD

KID SAYS SOX WILL WIN SURE, AND MORAN SAYS SAME OF REDS

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 30.—"I think we can beat the White Sox," said Pat Moran today.

"We'll win the series sure," said Kid Gleason. And that's the way the two managers of the two pennant teams felt on the eve of the first battle for baseball supremacy of the earth. After Gleason brought his athletes back to the hotel from their practice at Redland field, he seemed more confident than ever and not once during the day did he express any fear of the outcome of the big battles.

"All Ready," Says Gleason. "My fellows are all right," said Gleason when cornered long enough to say a few words. "You should have seen them in that workout this morning. Say, I never saw a bunch with more pep. It was fine. They simply cut loose in that practice and did everything. There isn't anything wrong with any fellow in the gang and they are keyed up to top pitch to start the battle tomorrow. Don't worry for their best and I guess that is pretty good."

"Is Cicotte's arm all right now?" was a question edged in by an eastern reporter. "It's all right now," came back from Gleason. "Say, it always was all right and it's just the same now as it always was. Those stories about Cicotte having a sore arm were all wrong. He's ready. I'm telling you, and I guess he'll be in there tomorrow to show the people he is."

"Don't Care Who Pitches." "Looks like Ruether will pitch the first one for the Reds," interrupted another reporter.

"We don't care if Ruether pitches," was Gleason's quick reply. "We don't care who pitches. The way my gang is going they haven't any fear of any pitcher. They're all set to meet any of them, and about that time the Sox bunch slipped away and grabbed some of his players and beat it for the race track to have some fun."

Pat Moran, leader of the Reds, spent the day away from the mob and in close touch with his players. Pat thinks he has his men primed to do the best work they have done this season, but as there are several on his team who never were in a big show before he is keeping pretty close tabs on things and watching that no one shows any signs of weakness.

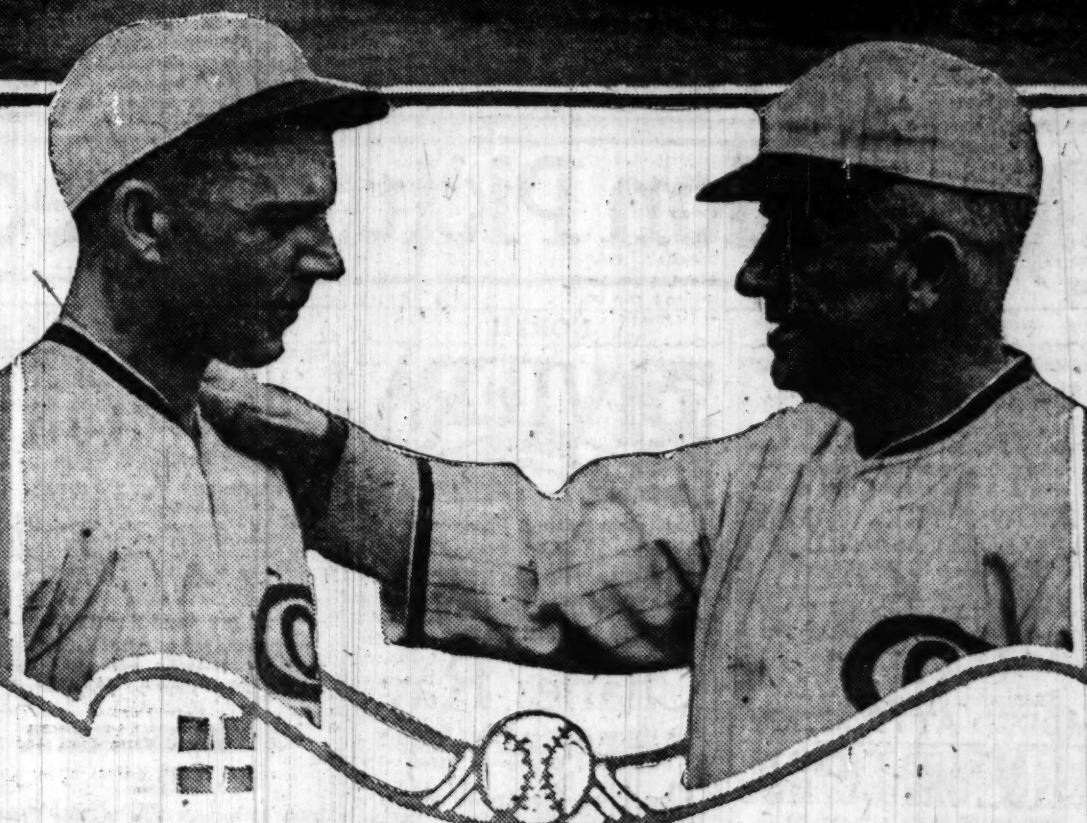

Reds Game Ball Team. "I figure my team just this way," said Pat tonight. "They went into New York in August to play six games in three days, and the Giants were fighting us for the lead. The crowds were awful; bottles were thrown; threats were made, and it was a condition that might have broken down a bunch weak at heart. My fellows went right through it and won four of the six games. I would have been satisfied with an even break, and when they did even better I knew it was a game ball team."

"Now, I don't think the world's series will be as hard a strain on my players as was that series. They went through it in great style, and I look for them to go through this fight the same way." I told the fellows that today. I told them the world's series wouldn't be as strenuous as the one was down in New York. I think I have them believing it, too.

Admits Sox Can Wallop. "Pitchers will figure a lot in the series. It will take great pitching to stop the White Sox. Gleason has a lot of heavy hitters. So did Connie Mack in 1914, but they didn't hit when they bumped into the Boston Braves. Good pitching by Rudolph, James, and Tyler stopped them."

Cincinnati, Sept. 30. Sneaked in on gulls perched croppers. Got 333 of a bed at a hotel. Registered from Albuquerque, N. M. If I'd made it Chicago, I'd sleep in a gutter. Damning!

They're here en masse, the scribes and the pharisees. The scribes are looking for highballs. The pharisees are awaiting the onslaught of the White Sox.

Town's jammed. Sports from everywhere are in. O. Sinsinuity!

"Baron" Long of Los Angeles is here. He runs Vernon, the jazziest joint on earth. He feels right at home. So does Jack Gleason of New York. He used to operate a dollar shop.

The Texas oil crowd got in, headed by Dick Ferris of Fort Worth. One of the party has 86,000 shares of his stock on the Reds against 97,650 shares of the other fellows on the Sox. Somebody stands to win about $9.

Food isn't very altitudinous here. I landed a prune for a buck. Saw a millionaire demand a steak. Who says money can't buy everything?

Fountain Square is lit up like the Tower of Babel. So are some of the municipal guests.

There's a paper here called the Enquirer. All right. We're ready to answer any questions.

This burg has gone loco. Walnut Hills is right.

Blushing, we must record that the world's championship in baseball is not the only supremacy at issue here; contests at stud, craps, and rummery are rolling high through the hotel hinterlands.

We gingerly ventured several smackers on an arrogant ace in the hole, but found that what stands up as a great hand in ordinary times is but a plaything in a crisis such as this.

Met Grantland Rice. He was trying to finish a verse beginning: "O, why should the spirit of Merkle be proud?"

How could it be when there's a world's series in the air?

All right, then, we'll finish it: O, why should the spirit of Merkle be proud, Like a fast flying meteor, cutting a base.

The greatest of boners save when Helme Zim Gave Collins that memorable Mattawean chase?

I could have made it "man," which would have rhymed; but I saw that boob play, and I couldn't call it a race.

Hugh Fullerton was seen trying to count up his breakfast check, and when he started to pay, the waiter showed him he had the decimal point in the wrong place. His attack was $37.66 in the matter, but his defense was .00000000, he having mistaken $18.50 for eggs and coffee to mean $1.85.

MAY I NOT SUGGEST THAT—If the Reds win, Moran should challenge D'Annunzio?

FAMOUS HURLERS, ALECK, PFEISTER, PITCH TO REDS

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 30.—[Special.]—Two famous pitchers were at Redland field today to give the Reds some fancy curves to look at in their final day of preparation to meet the Sox for the world's championship. One was Grover Alexander, now star of the Cubs, and the other was Jack Pfeister, veteran southpaw, who was a star with the Cubs a dozen years ago when they were champions.

MOSTLY NEWS.

THE mild weather has put a little crimp in the hunting, but fishing has been rather good. That's the beauty of this time of the year. When the weather is too stormy for fishing it makes the hunting good, and when it is too mild for hunting, you can grab your little old rod and catch fish. Nearby rivers have been producing some good fishing the last few days, but yesterday's rain will probably gum it up for a few days. Good catches of small mouthed bass are reported from the Kankakee, Fox, and St. Joe rivers.

Fishing continues good on the upper Mississippi, providing you get an even break on the weather. Last week Fred Peet caught a four pound white bass on a fly, which is, we allow, quite some fish. He started to bring it home, but some son of a horse thief stole it out of his basket. This is happening with regularity on the trains these days, and the wise angler will provide himself with a folding canvas suitcase and when opened up are low enough to shove under a lower berth. One is taking chances leaving a basket of fish in the vestibule of a sleeper.

SAYS PIKERS WHO SELL TO SCALPER SHOULD PAY TAX

Seats for Three Games in This City Bring $100; U. S. Sleuths Active.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL. That holders of world's series baseball tickets who have secured the seats for scalping purposes should be made to pay a government tax, the same as the ticket brokers, was the assertion yesterday by Ernie Young, the ticket speculator. Young asserted he has no trouble purchasing tickets for the game, but he must pay the entire excess government price.

"Why isn't some regulation inaugurated whereby the supposed friends of Charles A. Comiskey and other athletes of the Sox park, who secure blocks of seats and go from one ticket broker to another asking fabulous prices for their seats, are made to pay a government tax?" Young asked. Young had box and grand stand seats for sale yesterday and found ready customers for the box seats for three games. He got as high as $100 for three box seats and $40 for as many grand stand seats.

At the Palmer house all tickets were disposed of at approximately the same prices charged by Young.

Federal officers are on the alert and, according to Chief Deputy George Dinsdale of the internal revenue office, his force of forty men will be doubled on the days of the games to watch for scalping at the parks and on the car lines leading to the field.

United States District Attorney Charles F. Glynn took an interest in the ticket situation yesterday and issued the following warning to purchasers: "Persons buying tickets from scalpers should write the amount paid for the tickets on the back, together with their own name. Purchasers also should make sure the brokers' names are on the back of the ticket. This procedure will protect the purchaser and the government."

The only newspaper man I ever knew to save enough money all at once to buy a sheep ranch is just back from his property in Colorado, and HE SAYS:

That he used to think the wild west stories in the western pictures exaggerated, but that now he, having for a time been all the same as one with that same wild west, thinks the producers have been drawing it mild. For the newspaper man went to his sheep ranch for a vacation and spent his three weeks in Colorado, easing a gun through a knothole in shivering readiness for expected raiders—some being cattlemen with blood in their eye.

After having heard this sophisticated person's blood-curdling tales of the range at close range, I shall hereafter regard western pictures with deep respect, starting with "When the Desert Smiled."

It's really one of the milder westerners, acted by people most of whom are strangers. Welcome strangers to us, however, for they're all cracking good actors. Mr. Hart is quiet, self-possessed, unaffected, and not the least bit of a poseur. Miss Pickering—with her funny first name—is a graceful, wholesome girl, with an erect carriage, a pleasing smile, and a lot of poise. And she is some rider! I loved watching her gallop over the plains.

The minor parts are exceptionally well taken with Herbert Prior—the smooth villain, as per usual.
The plot? Well—it hasn't exactly whiskers, but it might be said to sport a healthy, flourishing mustache. It's all about the hardy young ranger with a mine on his place he didn't know about and which the villains did. Lots of action, getting things straightened out. And the romance, of course, is between the nice young woman with the funny name and the hardy young ranger, who would like to change it.
The picture has some scenery that will delight you. It has one of those broncho busting affairs cowboys always seem to be having on their days off. And, if just a "lee-tle" slow-moving, it may at least be said to go pleasantly about its business.
Selah.

PROTECTING SILAGE

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Usually a considerable waste occurs every year in the amount of silage lost through spoiling in the top layer. By tramping thoroughly during the process of filling the bulk of the feed is saved, but the top layer soon sours and is unfit for feed unless care is taken as soon as the silo is filled.
Simply packing, no matter how well it is done, still leaves the silage in such a condition that air will penetrate to a depth of several inches, sometimes as much as a foot or more, causing the feed to spoil.
Several methods of sealing the silo after it has been filled have proved worth while. Some use weeds or heavy grass. This is run through the silage cutter and used as a finishing layer, while others use the corn stalks by jerking the ears from the last two or three loads and allowing this to form the final layer to exclude the air.
"It is a good practice to tramp the silage around the edges at intervals of three or four days for about two weeks," says C. H. Eckles of the University of Minnesota. "This helps to prevent the settling away from the walls which often occurs. Spoiling at the surface may be prevented by covering the top of the silage when filling with a layer of tar paper cut to fit snugly around the wall and overlap a few inches. If this is used, it is advisable to weight it with some green material or with boards."
With silage as valuable as it is now it is important that the layer in which decomposition occurs be made as thin as possible, and most any of the materials that are now being used are less expensive than the feed that may be wasted. One method that is commonly used in Canada is to make a liberal application of common salt to the silage after the filling and packing are complete. Use from a half to one barrel of salt for the average silo.

Bright Sayings of Children

Gusie has a great penchant for playing with nails. One day he went into a neighborhood hardware store and asked the woman for a penny's worth of nails. She recognized him as a neighbor's child, so gave him the nails and the penny back. He repeated the performance for several mornings, always getting his penny back. At last the proprietress thought it was getting too strong, so one morning kept the penny. The little chap stood there till she asked what he wanted, and he replied: "I want my change."

L. M.: THE DIET YOU OUTLINED is at fault, I can plainly see. The food you eat is too heavy. Naturally, if that is the kind of meals you eat three times a day you would be constipated. Suppose you put yourself on a bran diet for a while. Every morning take a tablespoon of bran in hot water before breakfast. Or take it as a cereal. Just buy the plain bran at a grocery store. Then cut down by half the white bread and butter. Leave out the salads and oil dressings for a while and the sweets and cakes. And in the meantime send me a stamped, addressed envelope and I will mail you more detailed instructions on how to clear up a skin by food treatment and by local treatment.

Responsibility

RESPONSIBILITY is the conscience of business—the counsellor whose voice speaks for duty, honor and ideals. It points to public welfare and human good.

To be active, the ideals of a great organization must permeate the entire institution; the sense of responsibility must be diffused through many minds; an intangible thing must be translated into Service. Ideals, to be kept aglow, must gravitate from the highest to the lowest; youth must take the torch from older hands.

Youth, to grow to responsibility, must have responsibility given to it. Successful executives are those who know that responsibility does not grow without planting—that inexperience must be given the task of trust in order to become outgrown. Were chiefs of industry to do everything themselves there would be little progress in their wake.

Ability is of little account without opportunity, said Napoleon. One cannot learn to saw wood without trying; the bumps a child endures help teach it to walk; mistakes are our surest instructors.

In our organization the task ahead is always waiting for its claimant; at all hands is the incentive for the assumption of Responsibility.

Gorgeous Silks for Autumn

THE Silk Section is a joy to behold, it is so rich with the season's loveliest silken fabrics and so amazingly delightful in the warmth of its colors.

Our Finest Brocade

Among the most beautiful pieces on exhibition is a rare piece of metal brocade which is probably the most exquisite example of brocade ever woven. It is of royal blue velvet with immense blossoms of gold flowers. What a gown or what an evening wrap it would make!

Chiffon Velvets

They are indeed smart. Their softly draped effects give them a charm that is quite their own and a dignity that reminds one of the old masters. All colors.

Silk Duetyons

For gowns and frocks and wraps and trimmings are silk duetyons—and even for hats and bags. The newest nautarium shades, all the new browns and blues and taupes; almost any color at all, for that matter, that you might fancy, you will find here.

Silk Section, Second Floor.

Fine New Flannels for Every Cold Weather Requirement

ENTIRELY new Flannels have arrived during the past few weeks, making the Section unusually well fitted to meet every demand for cold weather. There are Flannels for fine blouses for women and shirts for men; there are great heavy Flannels for blankets and outdoor sleeping garments; there are soft, fine Flannels, beautifully embroidered, for making of wee baby clothes.

The assortments—weaves and colors, weights and patterns—are of unusual interest.

An Exceptional Selling of Women's Coats

Chinchilla Cloth, $57.50

Tinseltone at $57.50

Whippet Cloth at $77.50

Suede Velours, $77.50

Frostglow at $57.50

Seal Fur, $57.50

Broadtail Fur Cloth, $57.50

OCTOBER ushers in the really chill days. A good Topcoat is a necessity in every woman's wardrobe, and here is an opportunity of such merit it deserves immediate attention and investigation. Extraordinary purchases make this early selling possible.

The seven styles illustrated above do not begin to picture the full extent of the assortments, nor the charm of the styles.

Chinchilla Cloth Coats at $57.50

Tinseltone Coats at $57.50

Three Unusual Styles at $77.50

THIRD from the left above is one of the styles, made of a thick whippet cloth, with graceful collar, panel back and three welt tucks at the front. Next is another Coat, at this price, made of an excellent Suede velours, with large collar of French seal (seal-dyed coney). The straight panel back has arrow head embroidery. A third style at this special price is of a soft diagonal woolen, beautifully tailored, with cross-stitched back panel. This last model is not illustrated.

In addition, there are many lovely Coats of finer fabrics for limousine, afternoon and dress wear, from $110 to $595.

Women's Coat Section, Sixth Floor, North, State.

Only by seeing and feeling the wonderfully thick, cozy, yet featherweight, woollens; only by seeing the care in making, the good linings, the little painstaking details, the embroidery, the stitching, can one really have a true picture of the nature of this selling. But it will be to every woman's advantage—every woman who will buy a new Coat this Winter, that is—to investigate these values.

Broadtail Fabric Coats at $87.50

SO close to the beautiful, precious broadtail fur in appearance that many a woman who thinks she would not wear a fur-fabric will change her mind when she sees these three-quarter Coats for afternoon wear. They are quite gorgeously lined with fancy printed silk of superior quality, and have jet buttons for additional smartness. One is pictured above at the right. A cloth Coat at $87.50 is of frostglow woolen with large collar of French seal (dyed coney).

Plush and Cloth at $97.50

IN the group at this price Coats of rare smartness and desirability are included. First of all, there are the hip and three-quarter length Coats of seal plush, so nearly in appearance like Hudson seal that many a woman will be delighted. And they are cozy warm, too. One, pictured, has an ample collar of raccoon fur. Another at the same price has a shawl collar of this fur. A smart Coat of frostglow has its sleeves cut in one with its yokes, and large fur collar.

Women's Street Costumes of Marked Individuality

Copper-toned Beads or Hand Embroidery for Trimming

The Frock at the left is delightful for its long, slim overdress, giving front and back panel effect with soft gathered fullness at the sides. Richly embroidered and smartly belted, $80.

The Frock at the right is a glitter with copper-hued bugle beads which, after forming many little separate panels on the sleeves, bodice and skirt, fall into little beaded cascades, as the sketch shows. $95.

Women's Costumes, Sixth Floor, South.

Delightful Costume Blouses Special: $8.75 and $16.75

CREPE Georgette is used for the fashioning of each, but there all similarity ends. One is an overbloused style, tying with a button-weighted tie of the crepe to match, while the other is to be tucked into one of the season's new skirt bands.

Brilliant Wool Hand-embroidery Trims Circular Neck and Sleeves of the Overblouse pictured at the right. Its open sleeves and the sparkling notes of its embroidery are likeable touches. $16.75.

Thread embroidered motifs very effectively flank the vestee front of the other Blouse, sketched at the left and priced at $8.75. Both may be obtained in either blue or brown crepe Georgette.

Women's Blouses, Sixth Floor, Middle, State.

700 Dainty Breakfast Sets Special a Set, $4.95 to $8.50

A KNOWLEDGE of their regular price is the most convincing proof of the savings that this selling affords. The Sets are especially attractive for use in small apartments—a dozen different border designs add interest to the assortment. As each is carried in open stock, too, other pieces can be added, as needed.

These Specially Priced Breakfast Sets Include:

6 Breakfast Plates. 6 Bread and Butter Plates. 6 Sauce Dishes. 6 Cups and Saucers. 1 Platter. 1 Open Vegetable Dish.

It is well to investigate the values while the assortment affords such a wide range for choice.

Second Floor, Wash.

Smart New Hat Shapes of a Decided Youthfulness

THEIR upflaring brims indicate their faithful interpretation of the smart Autumn mode. Their careful finish, and their silk linings already sewn in make them of especial interest to home milliners.

Very little in the way of trimming is required—a fur pompon, a novelty flower, a slim little feather to outline their brims—and you have a Hat that will pass inspection anywhere, at a moderate price!

With soft crowns and contrasting colored brims of panne velvet; or all of one color. Two styles, showing their smartness, are illustrated. They are specially priced at $10.

SUGAR PRICE MAY GO TO 30 CENTS, BUREAU WARNS

Nation Must Restrict Its Use, Especially in Manufacture.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—[Special.]—The price of sugar is destined to go to 25 or 30 cents a pound during the next year and to become mightily scarce at that, unless the government speedily assumes control of its distribution.

Even under the most favorable circumstances the price is bound to go up, and may touch 15 cents during the winter and for several months thereafter. This is the opinion of the sugar bureau of the department of justice, which is endeavoring to stamp out speculation in the commodity and keep retail prices within reasonable bounds.

May Limit Candy, Soft Drinks.

The department is urging the president to establish government control of distribution under which the supply of sugar for the production of candy, soft drinks, and other luxuries would be strictly limited and the price of sugar to the householder regulated. Then under the amended food control act sugar profiteers would be prosecuted.

The senate committee on agriculture today directed a subcommittee to investigate Senator New's charges that the president failed to adopt the sugar equalization board's recommendations to extend government control to the forthcoming cane and beet sugar crops for the purpose of conserving the supply and restricting prices during the next year.

Indiana Without a Pound.

The country is suffering from a sugar shortage right now. There is not a community where there is enough sugar to go around, with the result that a decided slump has been put in home fruit canning operations and in efficient supply for table use.

According to the department of justice, there is not a pound of sugar today in the retail stores in the entire state of Indiana.

In Minnesota, the Dakotas, Montana, Utah and other states in the heart of the best sugar belt, sugar is being rationed locally.

Reasons for Shortage.

There is a multitude of reasons accounting for the shortage which has come about even under the régime of the sugar equalization board created during the war. One of the most interesting reasons given at the department is that the royal commission, purchasing Cuban sugar for England, France, and Italy, upset the board's price and sent it to an exceedingly unpropitious time.

Another reason is that vastly greater quantities of sugar are being consumed in manufacturing than ever before. Commercial fruit canners are taking greatly increased quantities, but the manufacturers of confectionery and soft drinks are cutting still more deeply into the available supply.

"If it were not for vastly increased consumption by manufacturers there would be enough sugar to go around and no danger of the price going up," said the attorney general's chief sugar expert.

Thief Bar Sugar Bowls.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 30.—Sugar bowls today were ordered seized in Indiana and other states throughout Indiana by Stanley Wyckoff, in charge of sugar distribution in this state. Mr. Wyckoff has received many reports recently of patrons of public eating places stealing the sugar.

FEED U. S. FIRST, CRY

Rigid government rules fixing the price of sugar, together with the exportation of hundreds of thousands of tons, account for the "famine" now being Chicago, according to Russell J. Poole, city director of foods and markets.

On Mr. Poole's recommendation the advisory commission of the city food bureau appeared yesterday to President Wilson and congress to place a limited embargo on the exportation of foodstuffs, including sugar. The appeal was made in the form of a resolution.

The resolution follows, in part: "Whereas, investigations made by the Chicago bureau of foods, markets, and farm products disclose a lamentable shortage of sugar in this city; therefore, Be It Resolved, That we appeal to the president and congress to place a limited embargo upon the exportation of foodstuffs, including sugar, and that exports should be limited to the surplus after our own requirements have been taken care of."

500 Exile Sugar Bowl.

The march into obscurity of Chicago's sugar bowl began during the day on a big scale, according to reports received from department of justice operatives by Mr. Cline.

"I'm advised that 500 hotels and restaurants in the loop and other business centers already have withdrawn their sugar bowl from their tables and have begun a 'wartime' sugar rationing," said the prosecutor. "This is remarkable cooperation and promises a conservation campaign that will sweep the city."

The government made another move toward helping solve food problems when the district attorney visited Gov. Lenox at the Blackstone and urged the immediate appointment of a chairperson for the Chicago "fair price" com-

CHARGES AWARD BY U. S. IS GIFT OF $1,832,654

Standard Steel Car Co.
Claim Attacked by Auditor.

L. J. Blakey, accountant in the ordinance division of the war department, who has been auditing the $8,000,000 war contract claim of the Standard Steel Car company of Hammond, Ind., left for Washington last night to ask that $1,832,654.11 of the claim be denied, in spite of the fact that it has already been approved by the district claims board.

The award was given the Standard company, under an act of congress of March 2, 1919, which permits settlement of claims for firms having war contracts. The firm was constructing gun carriages for the 220 m.m. or 9% inch howitzer. It completed 200 of them after the armistice was signed.

The claims board, composed of Col. R. E. Arison and Earl McFarland for the ordinance department, agreed to the company's total, so Blakey asserts, before the audit required had been attempted.

Findings of Audit.

Since then there have been many gatherings of officials and officers. Blakey's aids always presenting figures far below the company's claims. As a final effort Blakey's findings declare that:

1. The company is to get $99,000, itemized as a "Carrying Charge During Period of Nonproduction."

2. An "unabsorbed administrative expense" of $261,251.45 is allowed. "This was devised out of air," Blakey charges.

3. That the 10 per cent profit, figured as due on "Worked Direct Materials, Labor, and Overhead" should be slashed from the $556,234.05 the company claims to $406,334.95.

Holds Charge Improper.

"Unabsorbed Cost or Preparation of Plant" charged to the government at $60,000, is an improper charge.

5. That the government board allowed a $467,134.51 charge on "Additional Cost of Passenger Car Work Done in Freight Shop."

6. That a similar item of $17,140.77 has been granted as "Expense of Transferring Car Machinery to Freight Shop."

7. That $40,924.99 has been charged as "Unabsorbed Operating Losses to June 30, 1919, in the Hotel Dormitory Dining Room."

8. That "Difference in Cost and Present Value of Hotel Roadways, Garages, etc., less amortization at 20 per cent," is $220,756.24. Blakey believes $40,000 the proper estimate.

Claims Are Analyzed.

"By the foregoing," declared Blakey last night, "it is apparent just what the government has been asked to do. It is to pay the loss the company declares it suffered in loss of business, it is to pay a hotel dining room loss, it is to pay 'administrative' loss, after a settlement on that claim had been made. Were it not so costly and tragic to a government it would be absurd. And my figures prove the improper claims allowed total $1,832,654.11."

Blakey declared too that the colonels making the award had since been audited and his audit and findings, but nevertheless had maintained the figures as allowed are proper and equitable.

"After they made their $3,000,000 award I asked what was the use of an audit after an award," said Blakey, "and still I was ordered to make it. I have disclosed these discrepancies and still I am having all I can do to get war department attention."

Other Figures Given.

In a voluminous and itemized report Blakey charges that the Standard company is being given free of the electrical equipment of wiring that cost the government $138,000 to install.

He charges that the Watertown arsenal in Massachusetts is requisitioning now for materials the government has turned back to the company. His estimates declare the Watertown plant is willing to pay $2,000,000 for material the government now holds at the Standard plant as salvage of slight value.

"The buildings, machinery, and equipment of the company cost the government $3,000,000," said Blakey. "The steel, brass, and other materials cost $5,000,000. Under the award the concern is to get it all for $900,000."

MIDWIFE IS FINED $50.

Mrs. Esther Mendenhall of 2225 West Chicago avenue, a midwife, fined $50 and costs yesterday by Judge Holmes for practicing medicine without a license.

COUNCIL INVITES BELGIAN RULERS, MERCIER, TO CITY

Heroic Cardinal Lauded in Resolution Asking Chicago Visit.

King Albert, Queen Elizabeth, and Cardinal Mercier of Belgium were officially invited to visit Chicago by vote of the city council yesterday at a special session which bubbled over with hospitality.

Another set of resolutions extended Chicago cheer to delegates to the Rock River conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, who are to assemble here Oct. 9.

The resolutions inviting Cardinal Mercier were especially laudatory. Aid. S. S. Walkowiak, at whose request the special council session was held, introduced them.

Pay Tribute to Mercier.

"Lost to all interests of himself, solicitous for all humanity, and filled with the spirit of the great cardinal, Mercier dared to disobey the mandates of autocracy and fearlessly championed the cause of world democracy," declare the resolutions.

"Cardinal Mercier, the people's cardinal, the fighting cardinal, the prelate of Belgium, true to the best interests of man, for four long, heart rending and imprisoned years fought the vast empires of error, deceit, sin, murder, and death with the sword of eternal truth."

In their original form both the resolutions inviting the cardinal and the king and queen directed the mayor to do the inviting. Mayor Thompson objected to this, saying the invitation should come from the council, and the resolutions were changed accordingly.

Mayor to Pick Committees.

The mayor will appoint committees to extend the invitations and make arrangements for the entertainment of the distinguished visitors if they accept.

Ald. Olsen, who introduced the resolutions inviting King Albert and his queen, said that because no official invitation has been extended, Chicago has not been included in the itinerary of the king and queen.

King Nears New York.

On Board the U. S. S. George Washington, Sept. 30.—[By Wireless to the Associated Press.]—The greatest interest continues to be displayed by King Albert and Queen Elizabeth of Belgium, now far on their way to New York, in the condition of President Wilson.

A wireless message, sent by King Albert to the president, read: "The queen and I greatly regret to hear of your illness and wish you speedy recovery. We thank you for the trip you have planned for us and look forward to our meeting in Washington."

Queen Elizabeth gave a dinner last night in honor of Sophia B. Kiel, the chief nurse attached to the George Washington and decorated her with the medal of Queen Elizabeth for her war services.

Flagstaff, Ariz., Sept. 29.—King Albert and Queen Elizabeth of Belgium will visit the Grand Canyon Oct. 20, according to a telegram received here today from Senator Henry Ashurst.

STATE DEPARTMENT SILENT.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—[Special.]—State department officials would not discuss tonight reports emanating from New York that Chicago and Milwaukee were not included in the itinerary for the four states of the king and queen of Belgium.

It has been learned, however, that Chicago was not included in the itinerary which was in the possession of the state department as late as last Friday. Whether Chicago had since been added and the itinerary submitted to King Albert by wireless could not be learned.

One official of the department, when asked several days ago about the list of cities to be visited by King Albert, said that Chicago did not appear to be included, but that the itinerary had not been completed.

HOST HERE PLANS $50,000 RELIEF FOR AUSTRIANS

Demands Right to Send Food and Clothing to Starving.

Chicago's 100,000 residents of Austrian birth and blood are asking that food and clothing relief be permitted to go to Austrian territory. They plan to dispatch a vessel to Trieste at once.

The $50,000 required to purchase the needed food supplies is being raised by subscription. A committee, headed by Leopold Neumann, is soliciting the funds. More than $10,000 has been subscribed.

Hear Tales of Famine.

"Each day we learn of new tales of famine horrors from the interior of Austria and Hungary," said Neumann last night. "Children are being fed only on a diet of bread made from potatoes and wood. The people attend moving picture shows so their hunger pangs may be forgotten."

While Neumann has already obtained much of the fund needed, he is planning to raise the remainder among those of Austrian birth.

Last Sunday's festival at North Side Turner hall netted $5,000. Through subscription the other amounts have been raised.

Critiques War Trade Board.

In a series of protests Neumann and others of the committee have criticized the war trade board for forbidding mail parcels to Austrian territory and permitting such parcels directed to Germany.

"It is unjust," declared Neumann. "We are not Germans. Our committee is named 'The American Relief for Austro-Hungarian War Sufferers.' It is the only hope of saving the perishing people, yet the postoffice forbids mail parcels for those countries."

Mrs. Davis Wins $50,000

Verdict for Husband's Love

Mrs. Abner Davis, 1139 East Forty-sixth street, was yesterday awarded a verdict of $50,000 for the lost affections of Abner Davis Jr., son of a wealthy promoter. The case was not contested. Mrs. Davis lives with her father, E. H. Eggleson.

STARS LURE GOLD INTO COFFERS FOR MILLER BENEFIT

YOU'LL have to show a little speed, friends, if you expect to get seats for that benefit performance for John Miller, flagman, at the Colonial theater next Friday afternoon.

The lure of those seventeen stellar acts is proving too much for Mr. I. Will Chicago and family and they are springing for the box offices.

Yesterday the stockyards was invaded by handsome actresses—Helen Lowell, Hazel Dawn, Jacqueline Mason, Isabel Withers, Clara Mackin, and Louise Allen—and they didn't leave the beef steak factory until they had sold $245 worth of tickets and secured promises of several checks.

This afternoon at 1:15 the same group will go to the Board of Trade, where Julia Sanderson, Hazel Dawn, Zoe Barnette, and Tom Wise have arranged to put on a bit of entertainment. A brisk sale of tickets is expected.

EX-WIFE FIGHTS WITH M'NALLY FOR THEIR SON

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 30.—[Special.]—With the vivacity of a school girl, Mrs. Evelyn McNally Schrock sat in the witness chair in Judge Jayne's court today and fought for the continued possession of her 7 year old son, Stanley, now in a boarding school in Monroe, Mich.

Opposite her sat her former husband, Joseph McNally, now of Boston, from whom she was divorced in Chicago four years ago. The decree of divorce left the question of custody of the child open, and by agreement he has remained in care of the mother.

Recently, according to correspondence, the latter, who had married, found it necessary to write to her former husband for assistance in properly caring for the child.

A meeting was arranged in Detroit. After the father's arrival the parents failed to agree as to conditions, and the father brought habeas corpus proceedings, insisting that the boy would be better off if he would take him to his family, which is prominent in Boston.

Judge Jayne continued the case and asked the couple to come to an agreement.

WHISKY LURE IN SHOOTING AND ROBBERY PLOT

Waiter's Eagerness to Buy Liquor Leads Them Into Trap.

Frank B. Labbie of 431 South Ridge-land avenue, Oak Park, for years a bookkeeper in Chicago, but now employed as a waiter in the saloon and café of Herman Pokel, 34 Quincy street, met his old friend Harry Graham yesterday in front of the federal building. There was another man with Graham.

"Want to buy some whisky, Frank?" asked Graham of Labbie. "My friend here can help you out."

"Lead me to it," said Labbie. "I'd like to buy quite a lot, and I've got a friend who would like to get in on the deal."

Meeting Is Arranged.

It was arranged that Labbie and another waiter at the same café, A. H. Dorsey, of 4737 Prairie avenue, should meet Graham's companion at 8:15 last night at Erie street and Lincoln parkway in an auto and get the whisky.

Labbie scraped together about $25 and Dorsey brought about $20. The money was placed in a pocket of the automobile and the pair drove over to the rendezvous.

"Drive east," said the man who met them, and the car, driven by Dorsey, proceeded two blocks east in Erie street.

Then the guide said: "Wait a minute. I see a couple of friends."

A little blonde man climbed in the front seat with Dorsey and a big man into the rear seat with Labbie.

"Stick 'em up—high," commanded the little man, and both newcomers produced revolvers.

Shot Three Times.

Labbie resisted. The big man in the seat beside him fired three shots, striking Labbie in the abdomen, the right arm, and the right thigh.

Meantime Dorsey had turned over the key to the treasure cache and the robbers seized the money. Then they turned both waiters out of the car—Labbie staggering and weak from loss of blood—and drove away.

The wounded man was taken to Passavant hospital and Dorsey is being held while their story of the whisky rendezvous is being investigated by the police.

OFFER 3 MORE PLANS TO RETAIN DAYLIGHT SAVING FOR CHICAGO

Daylight saving for Chicago is not dead in spite of the repeal of the daylight saving law by congress over President Wilson's veto.

Mayor Thompson yesterday ordered the city law department to attempt to find a legal way to put the question of daylight saving in the city before the voters this fall.

The mayor's action followed an appeal for his aid made by Elmer T. Stevens, vice president of the association of commerce, and by Jay C. McCord of J. C. McCord & Co., real estate dealers.

Mr. Stevens, who is chairman of the association of commerce daylight saving committee, and Mr. McCord outlined three methods to the mayor, namely:

1. Adopt eastern time instead of central time in Chicago.

2. Establish by ordinance a system of municipal time which in effect would make the present time system effective the year around.

3. Allow the switch back to the old system on Oct. 25, but counteract the change by an agreement among all business houses to open and close one hour earlier.

The second suggestion is said to have been looked upon with most favor by both the mayor and his callers. All the suggestions would give Chicago two systems—railroad time and city time.

FOUR FIREMEN OVERCOME BY BURNING CORK

Fumes from the burning cork in the interior of the egg storage plant of the Chicago Cold Storage company, Maxwell and Jefferson streets, affected four firemen last night. The fire damaged several hundred thousand eggs stored in the plant. The fumes from the cork bore an acrid odor, which attracted hundreds to the scene.

The men overcome were: THEODORE KEMISKIEY, truck company 14; revived at the county hospital. THOMAS HANSON. LIEUT. JOHN VINEGAR, all of engine company No. 8.

The plant is situated beneath the Soo Line railroad tracks and trains were held up until the cork was extinguished.

LANDIS HOLDS 2 BREWERS FOR 2 3-4 PCT. SALE

Declares U. S. Ruling on Use of Grain Violated;
Bonds at $20,000.

Judge Kenesaw M. Landis yesterday answered the moot question concerning the legality of the manufacture and sale of 2 3/4 per cent beer in Chicago by holding two local brewers to the grand jury under $20,000 bonds each.

The brewers, Rudolph Lederer, president of the North American Brewing company at 2336 Cooper street, and Charles Hasterlik of the Best Brewing company of Chicago, 1317 Fletcher street, were held, he pointed out, for violation of the prohibition act passed in November after the armistice was signed, which forbids the use of grains or fruits in the manufacture of beer and the sale of a beverage of more than one-half of 1 per cent alcoholic content.

Both men furnished bail in $10,000 Liberty bonds, which they had brought to court with them in pursuance of the "safety first" policy found to be most expedient in the Landis court.

Landis Calls for Counsel.

Attorney Joseph Fleming, representing the brewers, made a gallant stand for his clients the moment the order was passed, and for half an hour presented arguments against the involved revenue laws, contrary decisions of other federal judges in the liquor question, and contradictory federal statutes which caused the court to call upon District Attorney Cline and representatives of Attorney General Brandage for counsel before he reiterated his decision on the prohibition act alone.

"As a matter of fact, Mr. Fleming," he cried, after reading over numerous paragraphs in various federal statutes which passed with the payment of government taxes by brewers operating in prohibition territory and reviewing the decisions of the seven judges who have ruled that 2 3/4 per cent beer is not intoxicating, "you and I know that if a man goes out and drinks a lot of this 2 3/4 per cent stuff he's going to get full, don't we?"

Dennis U. S. Law Was Broken.

"I cannot subscribe to that," protested the attorney. "I'm no judge of beer. All that I know is carried in these federal statutes, which I maintain do not make it a penal offense to manufacture and sell 2 3/4 per cent beer. These brewers have broken the law in no way and can be touched only through state courts."

In his laws in no way and can be touched only through state courts. The federal and state authorities interested in the sweeping beer exposé. They declared that the state courts are subject under the search and seizure law to the confiscation of their brewing property.

"The" Lewinsohn Held.

The judge yesterday ordered "The" Lewinsohn, proprietor of a saloon at Congress street and Wabash avenue, to the grand jury under $15,000 bonds, charged with transporting contraband over the state line from Kenosha.

Charles Appel, owner of the North Side Turner hall, admitted yesterday that he had bought big consignments of Kenosha beer, and that the brew was intoxicating. But William J. Emlich, hotel barkeeper of Fox Lake, protested on the stand.

Woman Is Obscured.

The judge discovered a tartar in Mrs. P. J. Siebold, wife of one of the owners of the confiscated beer trucks, who appeared to tell why her husband has not answered his latest summons as a witness. She declared firmly that her husband is sick in bed at home, but refused to say in many times a doctor had seen him, at last admitting that her husband's partner in the truck ownership had been the driver of the truck.

She was allowed to go after the witness chair tilt.

CITY ENGINEER GIVEN NEW POST TO VACATE OLD

City Engineer John Ericson, a city employee for more than thirty-five years, consented yesterday to relinquish his position to take a job as consulting engineer for the department of public works.

For three months the city administration is said to have been anxious to get rid of Mr. Ericson, but threats of charges before the civil service commission failed to budge him and it remained for the diplomacy of Charles R. Francis, commissioner of public works, who offered him the new position, to render vacant Mr. Ericson's job.

Mr. Ericson will receive $5,000 a year in his new position as city engineer. P. S. Coombs, city administration adherent and at present assistant city engineer by grace of a temporary appointment, will take Mr. Ericson's place for the present at least.

SEALER WINS IN 'HALL' ROOM RACE

The wordy battle regarding who is to be the next tenant of room 605, city hall, ended yesterday with City Sealer Morris Eller in possession and declaring he's going to stay.

The room was left vacant when the offices of the smoke prevention bureau were transferred to the health department. Commissioner of Public Works Francis was immediately besought by half a dozen cramped department heads for the use of the room. George C. Hunt, chief surgeon for the police department, and Mr. Eller were both after the room with Health Commissioner Robertson also in the race.

SHORT COVERING

STOPS FURTHER DROP IN CORN

Report Wartime Prohibition Is to End Helps the Market.

By CHARLES S. MICHAELS.

While local traders are decidedly bullish on grains, they are unable to maintain the breaks due to over-selling. Prices were lower early, but when short covering set in offering some light advance at the last. Active futures of corn were unchanged to 1/4 lower, and oats 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher. September corn flattened out at the last and closed 1/2 lower, while oats lost 1/4. A slight rally in barley due to short covering advanced prices 1/4, with the close at the top, while the deferred deliveries were up 1/4. Rye lost 1/4 to 1/2 in Chicago.

Southwestern corn markets showed more strength than Chicago, new crop futures being 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, while St. Louis September was 1/4 higher and Kansas City 1/4 lower. Oats were 1/4 higher, rye 1/4 lower, and barley 1/4 higher. At Minneapolis oats were 1/4 higher, rye 1/4 lower, and barley 1/4 higher, with receipts 121 cars. Buying of nearby deliveries of hard by packers made a firmer market, with the close 1/4 higher, while January gained 1/4. September pork closed 1/4 lower, but due to delayed long liquidation at a time when the market was without buying orders. Deferred futures were off 1/4 to 1/2. Ribs were neglected and closed 1/4 to 1/2 lower.

Local traders were radically bearish on corn early, the break of 1/2 in hog and the decline in sterling exchange resulting in considerable pressure, and prices were forced off 1/2 to 1/4. The disposition to over-sell, however, was the mainstay of the market, short covering was responsible for many sharp rallies.

Toward the last, rumors that wartime prohibition was a thing of the past led to free buying and a sharp bulge, which carried prices well above the previous day's finish. The demand, however, brought out part taking and a reaction, with the close practically the same as the previous day.

New crop deliveries had a range of 1/4 to 1/2, with December 1/4 to 1/2 at the last, while May was 1/4 to 1/2. Trade in the September was almost entire, an evening up character. An effort on the part of related longs to sell out at the close made a sharp break, with final sales at 1/4 to 1/2, and the early top.

Oats sold to Buffalo. Oats were dull and easier early in sympathy with corn, but later developed independent strength. September was in demand from shorts and advanced 1/4 to 1/2, selling at 1/4 under December at one time. In the last few minutes of trading, however, it flattened out and dropped to 1/4 on an effort to realize by scattered longs, closing at 1/4, although around 1/4 was said to have been paid after the bell tapped. Deferred deliveries were bought by shorts and closed practically unchanged, with December 1/4 to 1/2 and May 1/4 to 1/2.

Barley Market Strong. A belief that wartime prohibition would be declared off within a few weeks at least, combined with buying by millers, gave the market a strong tone. Offerings were small and readily absorbed at full prices. Spot sales were at $1.20 to $1.25, receipts 13 cars.

Rye futures were neglected and closed 1/4 to 1/2 lower. Trade was light. Spot No. 2 sold at $1.42 and No. 3 at $1.41 to $1.42, receipts 4 cars.

September Pork Slumps. Provisions were decidedly unsettled. There was a good deal of buying in nearby deliveries of lard, with packers and shorts leading, while eastern and local longs sold freely. January, after weakening early, advanced in sympathy with grains. An effort to sell 250 bbls September pork found the market tight and out support and the price dropped from $1.00 to $0.95, without a trade in the bottom, with the close at the bottom, $0.95. Ribs were neglected and ranged lower. It was understood that a fair amount of lard had been sold for export, presumably to the continent, but the demand for meats is slow, both domestic and foreign, and prices have been shaded. The break of 1/2 in hog and the continued decline in sterling exchange created bearish sentiment. Prices followed:

GERMANY FIRST EUROPEAN LAND TO GET ON FEET

Willingness of Its People to Work Gives It Advantage.

Word concerning industrial conditions in Germany as it is beginning to come to this country by way of returning American investigators indicates the belief that Germany will recuperate faster than any of the other European powers. This opinion is also gradually finding its way to the banks as a result of their individual efforts to gather from European banking interests a conservative view of the situation.

It appears that there is not in Germany as a whole the chaos which general news cables indicate. On the contrary, it is held the country was not ravished by the war, and while its political system has been upset, stable conditions in government are growing more promising.

People Willing to Work.

But the controlling factor appears to be the observation that the German people are willing to work. According to American observers, they are not seeking an easy way out of their difficulties. It has been pointed out the German mind that there must be industry if the people are to save their wealth and their country. At the same time the long years of discipline under which the German people have lived has, according to these observations, resulted in a kind of universal obedience to the pronouncements of the state.

Some interests which have individually visited Germany and other parts of Europe for purely trade reasons find that goods may be purchased more cheaply in Germany than any other European country, this because of appreciation that through active trade only will the country be enabled to begin the recovery of its losses and meet its state obligations.

Finances of Government.

Concerning the plans of the Erbsberger Ministry for Germany's financial future, the state of the Affairs are said to be such that the government's annual expenditures are placed at 17,500,000 marks, roughly $2,500,000,000. These annual expenditures are made up as follows: For interest on the national debt, 1,700,000,000 marks; for military expenses, 4,200,000,000 marks; for their families, 4,200,000,000 marks; for administration, 1,700,000,000 marks. The remaining 4,000,000,000 marks does not take into account indemnity to the allies.

To raise the sums just mentioned it is proposed there shall be received in war reparations and new taxes 7,000,000,000 marks.

The annual receipts from the tax on capital are estimated at $500,000,000 marks and a sales tax which is to be levied is expected to bring in $800,000,000 marks. The remaining 4,000,000,000 marks is to be raised from the income tax, postal rates, and the petroleum monopoly.

Figures on National Debt.

The national debt of Germany is placed at $1,000,000,000 marks, nominally $18,000,000,000. There is a further debt of $500,000,000 marks.

There is to be inaugurated a tax on sales. On purchases for improvement the tax will be 1 per cent, while on purchases for household and for similar direct consumption purposes the tax will be not less than 5 per cent. The latter will apply to food and clothing.

Those who believe in the future of Germany assert that it will be a successful one, but a successful one, since the country has already begun to increase its production and to understand that through work and not revolution will the country prosper.

THE AVERAGE MAN'S Problem

The great problem for the average man is to devise or discover a plan whereby he may create an independent estate, separate from his business investment, that will enable him to look with equanimity upon a slowing up of business earnings or a period of depression.

He wants to accomplish this without hampering his requirements for the present.

The "Union Trust Plan" applied to individual conditions will accomplish a result which is the heart's desire of every man.

Ask for our booklet, "The Union Trust Plan," then come in and talk it over.

$2,500,000 Public Service Company of Northern Illinois

Three Year 6% Collateral Gold Notes, Series "C" Due September 1, 1922

Price 98.00 and Interest, Yielding 6 1/2%

The Public Service Company of Northern Illinois operates in fifteen counties in north-eastern Illinois, having a combined population, according to the 1910 Census, of 759,655, excluding the City of Chicago. The Company supplies electric light and power, gas, water and heat. Customers on December 31, 1918, numbered 161,533, an increase of 30.16% in the four years 1915 to 1918 inclusive.

The territory served surrounds the City of Chicago, and includes not only the entire suburban districts tributary to Chicago, but also one of the best manufacturing sections in the United States. On account of its nearness to a large central market, this district is an excellent market for light and power.

These notes, being a lien through pledge of First and Refunding bonds, rank ahead of $2,997,700 Six Per Cent Debentures, as well as $7,672,000 Preferred Stock paying 6% dividends, and $12,075,000 Common Stock paying 7% dividends. These junior securities, at present market prices, indicate an equity of over $20,000,000 behind the Company's First and Refunding Bonds, a portion of which is pledged to secure notes.

The following figures indicate the growth of the Company's business in the last four years:

French Exchange Slumps.
French exchange slumped, the cheques declining no less than 51 centimes from the final quotation of Monday. It also weakened under an increase of offerings, moving down to 3.74 for sight drafts. Sterling was a trifle more steady than the other exchanges, yet receded 1 cent to the pound to 4.18½ and recorded its minimum rate at the end of the day.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Negotiations for the sale of the Great Lakes Steamship corporation, a $6,000,000 concern, to the United States Steel corporation for $20,000,000 are under way, according to persistent reports in financial circles here today.

As a result of the reports, the price of the corporation's stock on the local security market shot up to $176 a share bid, ex-dividend $4 a share. Recently the stock changed hands at less than $100. There was feverish trading in the stock throughout the day.

The Great Lakes Steamship company operates twenty steamers freight carrying, on the Great Lakes, having a freight capacity of 187,000 tons.

Manufacturers—Wholesale Coal Dealers —Steamship Companies $60,000

The company is capitalized at $1,000. There will be no indebtedness of any kind other than the above bonds when issued.

BUSINESS.

Coal has been mined and shipped from the properties for many years. Three separate areas containing steam and domestic coal, while No. 8 coal is particularly good for gas, coke and by-product purposes. Business formerly owned by local parties and output sold in limited territory.

Properties also contain beds of superfine clay for making brick, tile of all kinds, and conduits.

Complete report on properties is available for those interested.

PROPERTIES.

The company owns 1,125 acres of coal rights in fee simple—no royalties; situated at Schree, Webster County, Kentucky, approximately 20 miles south of Evansville, Indiana. The property is well developed and the valuable water rights also lie on Green River for more than a mile, affording splendid water power for electric power.

Properties are direct to St. Louis, Memphis, New Orleans and other cities.

VALUATION.

The physical assets consist of mining equipment, houses, etc., $60,000; and mineral rights on basis of $200.00 per acre $25,500, making a total of $85,500.

BONDS.

The bonds are a first mortgage lien on the entire properties and assets. The deed of trust or mortgage will be executed, if so desired, to any trust company in Chicago or New York.

All legal matters in connection with the issue of the bonds have been passed upon by counsel of the company.

FILED—OFFICE OF ISSUES.

The proceeds from the sale of the bonds will be used to improve the equipment and extend operations, thereby enhancing the value of the properties, and providing for a large production increase.

It is proposed to sell the bonds to a large manufacturing company, or a group of such companies in the Chicago industrial district. The proposition also is open to wholesalers or retailers, who may desire to purchase the bonds. The sale will be sold in co-operative.

- (1) The factory or factories shall have FIRST CALL and be supplied with all the coal required at a SPECIAL DISCOUNT.
- (2) The difference between the market price and special contract price will REPAY the face of the bonds.
- (3) The effect is to make the factory or dealers the ULTIMATE OWNERS of the properties until the bonds are paid.
- (4) Only a LIMITED number of substantial factories or dealers will be accepted.

The management of the company requests investigation, and shall be glad to confer with reasonable parties with a view of making any fair and reasonable arrangement for the purchase of the bonds.

LIBERTY BONDS

C. F. CHILDS & CO.

288 S. La Salle St., Chicago

The oldest house in America specializing exclusively in Government Bonds.

The price feature of trading on the local exchange was a jump of 9½ points in Wahl company stock. The shares closed on Monday at 21¼. The opening sale yesterday was at 20 and trading for the greater part of the session was around the latter figure. The market for the stock caused considerable comment.

Pneumatic Tool gave further evidence of pool activity. From the previous close at 82 the stock opened 2 points higher and touched 82. The transactions were controlled by many of the owners that have been previously announced, including the one that Charles M. Schwab, the principal stockholder, is behind the market.

Holland Sugar became active in a modern price way. The impression is now obtaining that all the sugar companies should earn large profits during the remainder of the current year. Swift & Co. advanced to 185, but did not hold the gain. Swift International sold off, as did National Leather. Union Carbide was about steady.

BOLSHEVISM

has never made a disciple of a man who owns his home. One reason why America is the greatest country in the world is because we are a nation of home owners. The man who owns his home makes a better citizen than the man who does not.

The present large demand for homes on account of the rise in rents and the present high cost of building will cause the price of houses to increase.

The prudent man would do well to consult a good real estate dealer regarding a home before prices are advanced.

New Suits, Coats and Frocks

Modes of Recent Arrival for Women and Misses

Details that do more than aught else to differentiate apparel are expressed in clever, original manner. Fabrics and colors are chosen with relation to each other and the particular mode.

Workmanship is of that high order that assures a continued service. These are the marked characteristics of this featured apparel, coupled with pricing of a really moderate nature. To choose from these assortments means certain satisfaction.

Women's and Misses' Suits Express the Ripple Coat Various

In women's suits one chooses this type of fashion in chevron, wool duvety, rayonner and peach-bloom. The sides ripple away smartly, the back and front are flat. Priced variously, $70 to $120.

For misses are suits in most interesting versions of this French "hip-line" mode. The cloths are rich and youthful furs are added. $75 to $195.

Women's and Misses' Frocks of Wool Jersey, $40 to $60

At $40 women may choose a frock whose smartness lies in tucks and cross tucks. At $50 are frocks in straight lines with panels edged in braid. At $60 frocks after the Russian mode, banded in Angora wool.

Blouses and Separate Skirts—Unusual Values

At $10.75—Blouses of Georgette crepe in an exquisite shade called rose-ash, or in brown and in navy blue, with the inalienable tucked vestee and cuffs of beige color Georgette crepe.

Women's and Misses' Coats Limit Variety Only With Vogue

For women, for example, are coats of Bolivia cloth, fur-collared, tucked unusually, $130. Coats of lustrola with winged pockets cleverly caught are $100.

For misses are coats of whippet cloths for strenuous wear, $55. Leather coats, short and jaunty, $92.50 to $67.50, and coats of tinseltone with deep fur collars and wide flat pockets, $120.

At $16.75, a separate skirt of wool plaid that can boast of several color combinations, smart in themselves, and not often used together. In women's and misses' sizes both.

Introducing the Correct and New in Maids' Uniforms

With the renewed social activity of this season that brings once again into prominence the more formal entertainment in the home, every hostess will be greatly interested, we believe,

In This Opportune Display And Special Selling

Every uniform is correct in sizing, trim in its tailored lines, and of excellent materials and workmanship.

At $3.95 to $29.75—

Taffeta silk uniforms, black, navy blue or purple, in the style sketched at the left—the taffeta of superior quality—$29.75.

The same style in gray brilliantine, $16.50, and in black, $10.75. Note the elimination of the front seam.

Other uniforms in black, priced according to fabric, at $5.95 and $7.50.

The striped gingham uniform sketched at the right, $4.50. Plain pink or blue gingham dresses, $5. Some of these uniforms with short sleeves, $3.95.

Third Floor, North.

Fur Coats

Worked with Unusual Elaboration

Fur coats are these that achieve an uncommon distinction. Lines especially adapted to their peltries have been worked out for each case, as it were, individually in coats of

Beaver, Nutria, Squirrel, Black Muskrat, Ocelot, Leopard, Civet Cat, Australian Opossum

Many times contrasting furs enter into combination. This with the perfectly blended fur results in a coat of marked richness.

Yet simple lines, deep collars and cuffs give a very definite, delightful youthfulness to these coats—

Priced According to Kind of Fur at $145 up to $725.

A VERY complete and varied assortment featured at this time brings all the

Favored Furs for Trimmings

These are the peltries most in demand for suits, coats and frocks and they affirm the vogue of the wider bandings.

Fourth Floor, North.

The Small Smart Hat

For the Woman of More Mature Years

Simplicity and line are its first attributes, with just that right degree of dignity which comes only with perfect designing.

Just from the hands of modistes whose talent lies in the creation of this type of hat is

A Group Presented for Selection at $15

Soft silk velvet, fold on fold, makes a high crown on one hat, through which are thrust two smooth pheasant feathers.

Another shows a deft disposition of ostrich feathers, a third the gleam of metal brocade cloth, a fourth a dull gold ornament and fur, and again flowers are charmingly used. So on through the group one goes, finding in each hat some uncommon phase of this season's fashion.

13,900 Pairs of Fine Gloves

Are Included in This October First Sale of Gloves

Economies seldom to be effected are brought about by this sale. Hence, women and men of foresight will see the advantage of purchasing gloves for every occasion to meet requirements for a long time to come.

And inasmuch as these prices are effective only while the present quantities last, too much emphasis cannot be placed upon the advisability of early selection in this sale beginning today.

2,200 Pairs of Women's French Kid Gloves, $2.85 Pair

1,200 pairs of women's two-clasp French glove kid gloves are pique sewn, in white with self or black embroidery, and in black with white embroidery. These are priced in this selling at $2.85 pair.

1,000 pairs of women's three-clasp French kid gloves in an excellent light-weight quality. They are overseam sewn, and are to be had in champagne and gray, white and black. $2.85 pair.

3,000 Pairs of Women's Glace Gloves, $2.15 Pair

Women's one-clasp glace lambskin gloves are in a medium weight, made of imported stock. The white gloves are embroidered and sewn in self and black. The black gloves are embroidered and sewn in white. $2.15 pair.

Women's French Kid and Cape Mousquetaire Gloves, $4.95 Pair

500 pairs of women's sixteen button white French kid gloves are featured in this unusual selling, specially at this pricing, $4.95 pair.

1,000 pairs of six button washable cape gloves and two-button mousquetaire gloves in brown, beaver, champagne and tan. $4.95

5,000 Pairs of Women's French Kid, Lambskin and Cape Gloves from Discontinued Lines, $1.85 Pair

The greater part of these gloves was imported from France. This is a group of small assortments which have been discontinued because missing sizes and kinds cannot be replaced. The French kid and lambskin gloves, overseam and pique sewn, come in black and white. The cape gloves are Prix seam sewn with spearpoint backs, to be had in brown, beaver and tan. These gloves are featured while present assortments last at $1.85 pair.

1,000 Pairs of Men's Street Gloves, $2.85 Pair

Included in this group are gloves of gray, Mocha, buckskin and Prix seam sewn cape gloves. Priced in this selling, while the quantity lasts, at $2.85 pair.

1,200 pairs of men's duplex cloth gloves in gray and buck colors are featured at 95c pair

First Floor, North and South.

For One Week Only—The Twice-Yearly Sale of Eiffel Hosiery By-the-Box

Because insufficient quantities of Eiffel hosiery are to be had this year, this sale of hosiery by-the-box will continue for one week only.

This means that those who await this twice-yearly event to meet their requirements should make every effort to avail themselves as early as possible of the advantages of purchasing by-the-box.

And those with whom "Eiffel" stands for excellent quality and service will purchase hosiery for every member of the family in quantities to meet needs for the entire season.

Women's Eiffel Silk Hosiery, Three Pairs Boxed

This women's Eiffel silk hosiery is made with cotton soles, heels and toes. It is priced, according to quality, at $4.50, $5.50, $6.50, $7.50, $8.50—the box of three pairs.

Women's Eiffel Lisle or Cotton Hosiery—Six Pairs Boxed

This hosiery is priced, according to quality, six pairs to the box at $2, $2.50, $3, $3.50, $4, $5.50 box

Children's Eiffel Cotton Hosiery—Six Pairs Boxed

Suitable for both boys and girls, priced, according to quality, six pairs to the box, $2.25 and $3 box

Men's Eiffel Silk Hosiery, Three Pairs Boxed

This Eiffel silk hosiery is made with cotton soles, heels and toes, and is priced, according to quality, at $2.50 and $3.50 the box of three pairs.

Men's Eiffel Lisle or Cotton Hosiery Specially Priced at $2, $2.50 and $4 the Box of Six Pairs.

First Floor, North and South.

The October Sale of Negligees

Important in the Matter of Economical Buying

The negligee, that indispensable member of the wardrobe in which even the most seriously inclined woman wants a touch of the frivolous, seems to have achieved supreme success in the modes presented here.

For to the charm of soft silken fabrics, exquisite laces and flattering colors, are added qualities of a practical, service-giving nature. And—

Now Through This Sale These Negligees May Be Chosen at Prices Lower Than They Will Again Be This Season

There are soft satin negligees in coat lines. Taffeta negligees in girlish, debonaire styles. Simply draped crepe de Chine and velvet negligees, and others ornamented with embroidery and silken fringe, with fluttery ribbons and ruffles and roses. Specially featured—

Note the Sale Prices—$8.95, $12.75 to $47.50

At $12.75—a taffeta silk coat robe with daintily fine ruchings cleverly applied. Sketched. At $15.75—crepe de Chine negligees with wee tuckings and filmy lace at the edges. Sketched.

At $23.50—crepe de Chine negligees with coatees of Margot lace and narrow, fluttery ribbons. At $28.75—crepe de Chine negligees in slipover style, embroidered and fringed. Sketched.

At this time, too, are presented new blanket robes, $5.95 to $27.50. And corduroy robes from $6.95 to $12.75.

Third Floor, North.

CARSON PIRIE SCOTT & Co

In the Housewares Section—

Kitchen Tables

Featured at $11.75

These tables are excellently made of hardwood, enameled in white. The tops, 48x27 inches in size, are of steel, enameled with porcelain. The legs are 2 1/2 x 2 1/2 inches, and the tables are equipped with one drawer.

Although the tops are slightly imperfect, the utility of these tables is in no way impaired, and at this price are noteworthy. $11.75.

Kitchen Chairs Priced at $3
